The State Regent recommends (1) "that a committee be appointed from this society to draft a bill to be presented to our Legislature, petitioning the General Assembly to make an appropriation for the preservation of records found in each of the oldest counties, as they are important, to complete the early history of Georgia. I would advise that a D. A. R., skilled in such work, be appointed to perform this important task, and that the results of these transactions be turned over to the compiler of State Records."

(2) We are proud of Martha Berry, Rabun Gap, Tallulah Falls and Mineral Bluff Schools, but there is a great field for a similar industrial school in the southern part of the state, while continuing our efforts to the above, I would strongly recommend that the D. A. R. start such a movement at an early date, and let each Georgia Daughter give her support and co-operation."

(3) Recommend "that we give our attention to the sea-wall at Frederica."

(4) We have funds for marking historic spots, and we would recommend "that the chairman of this committee be empowered to use this money and mark spots in places where chapters do not exist, according to motion on our books, and this conference designate such places to be marked during the coming year."

We the Committee, also recommend the adoption of Articles 1, 2, 3 and 4, and if practicable, would suggest Miss Helen Prescott, of Atlanta, to collect the records as mentioned in Article 1.

Carried.

Mrs. T. C. Parker, of Macon, extended an invitation on behalf of Nathaniel Macon Chapter, to the board for the 16th State Conference, to meet in Macon. Invitation received by board, and chair stated it would be presented to our State Conference in Augusta.

Reports were given by Mrs. Hardaway, Chairman Saner Fourth, Mrs. Morgan, Transportation Committee; Mrs. F. H. Orme, Chairman Emily Hendree Park Memorial. There is now $239.10 in treasury for this fund.

Motion was made and carried "that Mrs. Orme be empowered to carry out the instructions of the last Conference and to complete the work in accordance with the wishes of the National Society."

Letter in regard to Bloody Marsh was read from Mrs. D. R. Wilder.

Mrs. DeVoe moved "that as the Colonial Dames had decided to memorialize Bloody Marsh, I move that we, the D. A. R., withdraw our efforts in behalf of this enterprise, and if there is any money on hand for this, that it be placed in the State Treasury." Carried.

Letters, in regard to the Sea Wall at Frederica, were read. The Regent appointed Mrs. J. H. Redding, Chairman, and Mrs. W. H. DeVoe, Vice-President, in connection with Mrs. Winn, as Chairman Colonial Dames, to investigate the Sea Wall at Frederica.

Mrs. Frank Fleming reported for Welfare Women and Children; Miss Ruby Ray for Historic Post Cards.

Mrs. Peel moved "that the State Regent place in her Revolutionary Reader, the map gotten out by Miss Ray, marking historic spots in each congressional district." Carried.

Letters, commending the work of the State Regent in the work of publishing a Revolutionary Reader, from the Historian General, and Mr. Lucian Knight, were read by Corresponding Secretary. Miss Benning and Mrs. Patillo spoke on this excellent plan of the State Regent. Chapters were urged to take more interest in this work.

A pretty incident of the morning session was the presentation of a State Regent's pin to the State Regent. This presentation was made in behalf of the State Board by Mrs. DeVoe, in a graceful and charming speech. The State Regent graciously received it.

Mrs. Brooks, Regent of the Piedmont Continental Chapter, extended a cordial invitation to the members of the Executive Board to be present at a reception to be given by her at the Piedmont Driving Club, in honor of the 15th Anniversary of the Piedmont Continental Chapter, at 5 P. M. The Board then adjourned for luncheon.

The afternoon session was called to order by the State Regent.

Mrs. McCall, Chairman of the Press Committee, reported the publishing of the Year Book. Acting under the instruction of the Executive Board, $200.00 had been paid for the Year Book by the Treasurer. The cut of the Atlanta Chapter House had been paid for by the State Regent, complimentary to the Atlanta Chapter, of which she is a member. This Year Book is not a complete one; on account of the shortness of funds in the State Treasury, many reports were obliged to be cut by the action of the Board meeting in June, and the directory of members had to be omitted after being placed in the printers' hands.

Mrs. Orme moved "that Mrs. McCall be given a vote of thanks for her work on Year Book, and the book be accepted." Carried.

The Regent reported Mrs. W. S. Wilson, Chairman, Ebenezer Records.

The State Regent spoke in regard to the inauguration by the D. A. R., of a peaceful Good Will Xmas. Letters had been sent to Chapter Regents, asking for their hearty co-operation.

Mrs. Dean moved "that we extend as a Board, our hearty co-operation in this work." Carried.

Mrs. Fleming asked for advice in regard to the time limit for credentials to be returned to the State Regent, Treasurer, and Chairman of Credential Committee.

Mrs. Graham moved "that credential blanks be returned by February 20th, and that this instruction be printed on the blanks." Carried.

Mrs. Parker moved "that we extend a rising vote of thanks to our State Regent for a most delightful day and luncheon." Carried.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

MRS. HOWARD M'CALL,

Secretary Pro Tem.

Mrs. Graham moved "all Chapter reports sent in, be read at Conference by Recording Secretary." Carried.

Under new business, Mrs. DeVoe, of Brunswick, appealed in behalf of Mrs. Dodge, for an appropriation from Georgia D. A. R., for Dormitory for Boys' school on St. Simon's Island, to be known as Jas. After the business session these minutes were read, approved and signed by the entire delegation.

MRS. CHARLES C. HOLT,

Secretary.

Welcome Address, Mrs. Chas. H. Phinizy, Regent of Augusta Chapter.

"Madame State Regent and Delegates of the State Conference—Ladies: In behalf of the Augusta Chapter of the D. A. R. it gives me very great pleasure to extend an official, but none the less cordial and sincere personal welcome to each and every one of the State delegates of the Conference, which Augusta now has the honor and privilege of entertaining.

"No city in the State holds a warmer welcome for the D. A. R. than the City of Augusta; an enthusiasm and appreciation of the work and purposes of the D. A. R. that has always grown as Augusta has grown. The reason and the roots of this welcome extend far back to the time when Augusta was founded by General Oglethorpe, fostered by his protection and fought for with all his strength and resources.

"It is our earnest desire that the State Conference of the D. A. R. feel thoroughly at home during their session in Augusta, and we would have you forget for a brief time at least the closer ties that bind you to your respective homes. Historically, the Daughters have every cause to feel that Augusta is in sympathy with their noble and patriotic work. We are meeting in the shadow of the monument of the three Georgia signers of the Declaration of Independence. A tribute to public integrity, an expression of the gratitude and reverence felt by us for our honored dead. High ideals are a people's best inheritance.

"And not far away, on the banks of the famous Savannah, stands the old church of the parish of St. Paul, and the site of the old Fort Augusta that first made this place the outpost for civilization, liberty, freedom and patriotism in Georgia. May the Lord our God be with us as He was with our fathers.

"The house still stands in Augusta, historic Meadow Garden, the home of George Walton, that also sheltered and entertained the first president of the republic, our hero. There are many homes in Augusta that have delighted to entertain our last president, while the present chief executive of this great nation passed many years of his early life in the nearby Presbyterian manse, played in the court house yard, attended school and worshiped in one of the old churches of this city.

"The Augusta Chapter appreciated the State Association's acceptance of this beautiful and patriotic city for their annual conference, and we pledge anew our interest and efforts to the common cause of the D. A. R. of our State and Nation.

"In behalf of the Augusta chapter, I again bid you welcome to the hearts and homes of this city."

RESPONSE TO ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

(By Mrs. Jno. M. Slaton.)

Madame Regent, Daughters of the American Revolution—Ladies: Even before the cordial address of welcome, each member of our order must have felt at home in the city of Augusta. Its history is filled with recollection of events which, in part, it is our purpose to preserve. The people of Georgia are a grateful people, and in naming their counties, they have immortalized its benefactors, whether endowed with the coronets of nobility or remembered because of patriotic service or sacrifice—Camden, Chatham, Effingham—all recall names made dear to us, because of their sympathy, and here in Richmond, we are reminded of that scion of royalty who precipitated the debate which witnessed the last effort of the first Pitt in behalf of the colonies. The historian relates that this was the last county in Georgia to yield to the superior forces of the British aggressor, and for the first time in many years are we permitted to enjoy the hospitality of this typical city of Georgia and of the South.

We perform no nobler work than in perpetuating a vivid recollection of what our own people and State have achieved. The basis of patriotism may be a love of locality. Whatever may be our activities along practical lines, our highest destiny is to ennoble and exalt the home, and in doing so, we bind the affections to a place and preserve the memories of the fireside about which cluster the fondest associations of life.

We are too prone to find virtues elsewhere, and to locate excellence in distant climes. Like the searcher for happiness in the beautiful story of Van Dyke, we may wander far to find it in our own household. Peoples, like individuals, preserve their charm with their individuality, and they exalt themselves as they recognize the achievements of their own communities and kindred. Go where we may, where are institutions nobler or ideals higher than in Georgia? Where are people more free or justly more proud of their past. Where is home more sacred, or manhood more knightly, or womanhood more revered? While progress is the external law which must be observed, it only means the unlocking of the store houses of the future with the keys of past experience.

Georgia, in its establishment, was the haven of the oppressed. In its early history its laws breathed a sympathy for the unfortunate and a spirit of justice to the weak. Through all the years, it has adhered to these early ideals. Revering the wisdom and virtue of our ancestors, we have, like Mary, "kept all these things and pondered them in our hearts."

The rocky mountains afford a splendor of scenery unsurpassed by the Alps. The climate of the South is not inferior to that of the Hellenic Isles. The blue skies of Italy reflect no more radiant hues than those of Georgia on a summer's day. Wherever reflection has produced a new thought, or experience revealed a new truth, or genius has enriched the world with a new discovery, it is our province to accept it and utilize it. But stability has virtues fore lasting than innovations, and frequently the novel suggestions of strangers, however attractively phrased, are like the sweet notes of the Piper of Hamelin that lure to unknown dangers.

These thoughts are suggested by our presence in Augusta, replete with so many scenes of patriotic interest. Within her limits have been entertained those who have changed the face of history. Her hospitality is typified in her beautiful homes, graced by their charming owners. Her factories relate the achievements of progress, as they convert our cotton into garments to clothe the world. Her churches suggest reliance of a trusting people upon that divine guidance which has blessed this State and Nation. And more than all, we appreciate that hospitality so delightfully tendered which invites us to your homes, where is found the supreme grace and charm of our civilization. In the environment embodying every thought for which our order is established, and teaching its lessons in every voice we hear, and scene that we behold, your hearty welcome but emphasizes the instinctive feeling of us all—that we are at home.

ADDRESS OF STATE REGENT, MRS. SHEPPARD W. FOSTER.

Fifteenth State Conference, Daughters of the American Revolution.
Honored Guests, Daughters of the American Revolution:—

As your State Regent, I feel that my first words of greeting to this splendid gathering today should be words of appreciation for the royal welcome which has been extended one and all. I know that I voice the sentiment of all present when I say that it gives us pleasure to be here.

Madame Regent, of the Augusta Chapter, we realize the responsibilities and practical work of your officers, in fact your entire membership, extending over many weeks, which the reception of so large a number of guests entails, and your kindly courtesy in meeting every suggestion and anticipating every wish has been a source of great assistance to your State Regent, besides assuring a most successful conference. As Georgia Daughters, we deem it a privilege to be entertained in this historic city, where stands today Meadow Garden. Every Daughter of the American Revolution in Georgia has a feeling of pride when she speaks this name.

To each and every one present, I extend a hearty welcome to our State Conference. Your presence here today is proof positive that you are not only interested in, but in sympathy with our work, and the augury for success is most favorable and inspiring.

The Daughters of the American Revolution is the oldest and largest genealogical and historical society in the world, organized October 11th, 1890, when eighteen patriotic women banded themselves together to organize this organization. It has swept like a tidal wave over our country, until we now number 98,000 strong.

We come together with increased loyalty to our society of the D. A. R., loyal in its aims and purposes. Whatever, of good or ill, has brought sunshine or cloud in the fleeting year just passed, we come to those meetings, picturing to ourselves the greetings of old friends, and felicitating ourselves upon meeting new ones, and to renew our fealty to all demands upon us.

Gathered here today are Daughters from all parts of our State. This is not a chance meeting of aimless wanderers, but the deliberate assembling of those who come for a purpose. We are a society, banded together, to do a nation-wide work, to teach patriotism.

Patriotism is an abstract love, and the patriotism that is worth while is that which recognizes the conditions of our country and tries to better them. Quoting from the inaugural address of ex-President Benjamin Harrison: "Let us exalt patriotism and moderate our party contentions. Let those who would die for the flag on the field of battle, give a better proof of their patriotism and a higher glory to their country by promoting fraternity and justice. A party success that is achieved by unfair methods, or by practices that partake of revolution is hurtful and evanescent even from a party standpoint. We should hold our differing opinions with mutual respect.

Patriotism and a sense of duty to those who have a less chance in life, should inspire us to help those who come to this country to seek liberty and opportunity. In this way we shall have one land, one culture and one American tradition. We come from the grandest nations of men—they came from nation-builders of the earth—from the Anglo-Saxon, the Teutons and the Romans. They have given us the qualities which make us supreme among nations. From them we have inherited the priceless boon of freedom, freedom to our own homes, freedom of speech and press, freedom from caste and class, freedom to do and think as we please.

Pride of ancestry has been charged the most important feature of our society. Stop for a moment and consider, is it not right that we should be proud of our ancestors who gave their lives for our freedom and liberty? We should remember that this very heritage places upon our shoulders grave responsibilities. What principles inherited do we stand for? What kind of Americans are we? What sacrifices are we making for our country today? As our forefathers prevailed over evil in their day, so we can, and so must we prevail over it in our day.

If our ancestors could return and assemble again, and respond to our words of honor for their memory and gratitude for their deeds, what message would they give us. Perhaps the saying of the Father of Our Country: "Observe good faith and justice toward all nations, cultivate peace and harmony with all; peace with the world is my sincere wish—I am sure it is true policy?"

Just one hundred and eighty years ago—February 12th, 1733, Oglethorpe began laying the foundation of Georgia. The Empire State of the South has had its origin in the noblest impulses that swell the human heart. Let us refer to the friendly relations between the Colonists and the Indians. The story of the Indians' past romances and poetry, may if it will, present new and inspiring facts, that may be shown to have a modern bearing upon the growth and destiny of the American Revolution.

We recall the words of Tomichichi, when he presented Oglethorpe with the buffalo skin, ornamented with the picture of the eagle: "I give you this which I want you to accept. The eagle means speed and the buffalo strength. The English are swift and strong as the beast, since like the one they flew over the seas to the uttermost parts of the earth, and like the other they are strong and nothing can resist them. The feathers of the eagle are soft and means love, the buffalo skin is warm and means protection. Then I hope the English will love and protect our little families." Oglethorpe, it is true, made peaceful treaties with the Indians. However, they were not at all times what they should have been. Is it not our duty as Georgia D. A. R. to investigate and see what we can do for the Indians of today, and thereby comply with the request of Tomichichi—"for the white man to be good to his little families?"

My predecessors have urged the marking of historic spots and trails. I wish to especially emphasize the work and urge upon Georgia Daughters not longer to delay in this noble undertaking. The East, North and West have been more zealous in this particular form of patriotism than we have in Georgia. Mark, Oglethorpe, DeSoto, McIntosh, the Indians, old stage roads, in fact all trails in our State. The old forts should be marked. Our State is rich in historic spots, and the D. A. R. of Georgia could give their efforts to no labor more consecrated.

The preservation of the records of our State has been accomplished largely through the efforts of the The Daughters of the American Revolution. Much is yet to be done.

What is patriotic education but life more abundant, life more abundant for our country? It is indeed a great thing to do something worth while not for ourselves but for others.

The work of the Georgia Daughters along the line of Patriotic Education is meeting with great success last year over $2,600 being given by the National Society D. A. R., to the Martha Perry School at Rome.

With an approximate number 100,000 immigrants entering our country annually, it is very important that this foreign element be taught patriotism, love of the flag and love of American Institutions, for they are the men of tomorrow, and the advancement of our country, for good or evil, is left to them, since even now in some of our large cities it is stated authoritatively that only one child out of every ten you meet has American born parents.

The best way to teach astronomy is to teach the history of the stars. The best way to teach patriotism is to teach the history of our flag. It is an excellent plan for chapters to present flags to our public schools, and teach the children to salute the flag, at the same time saying, "Our country, one language and one flag, on the principle of: 'make the fountain pure and the water that flows therefrom will be pure.'"

There is a bill H. R. 26167, even now before the House of Representatives to prevent the desecration of the flag of the United States. If Uncle Sam requires us to respect the foreign flag, how much more important it is for us to pay respect to our United States flag, our National flag, and I will add, our own State flag?

It is said that the life of an individual is the miniature of the life of a nation. The first step then in our advancement must always be born of individual worth.

It is true indeed that services to others always broadens the giver. A splendid attribute of the human mind is that it can work for ideals, can forget personalities, parties and prejudices, and work for a great cause. In any great cause, in any question of right, in any need of devotion and sacrifice, the small things of life pass away and only the great things loom up in the horizon.

The D. A. R. of Georgia must be numbered among those who are helping in the uplift of the day. To help as a society, as a chapter, and as an individual when duty or service calls the roll of 98,000 to answer: "Here am I, take me."

"O, Daughters of a hero race,
Because your lineage you trace
Back to those mighty ones of old
Think not that you may safely hold
You are of them. Not so, unless
Like them you live, the world to bless
For now, as then, the great world needs
Pure thoughts, strong words and noble deeds."

GREETINGS FROM THE NATIONAL D. A. R. SOCIETY.

(By Mrs. William Lawson Peel, Vice-Pres. General from Ga.)

"Madam Regent and Daughters of the Fifteenth State Conference of Georgia:—

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was formally organized in Washington, D. C., October eleventh, eighteen hundred and ninety. The first President General was Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, wife of the President of the United States.

"While the descendant of the humblest drummer boy may aspire to be our President General, it is an unwritten law that we unite upon a woman not identified with any faction; a woman of unblemished name, of the highest social standing, a woman of means, competent unassisted to maintain the legitimate expenses of the position; a thorough woman of the world in the best sense, with executive ability proven, and one to whom every Daughter could point with pride. Every Daughter must remember, that upon her rests the responsibility of keeping up the standard. The letter and spirit of our constitution embraces and invites every descendant of a patriotic ancestor to unite with the society in perpetuating the memory of those who participated in the struggle for independence. In the records we drink from the fountain-head of the history of the war, and one cannot fail to grasp fundamental truths and recognize the strong elements which united became irresistible. The bulk of our army was native-born and of English descent. Citizens who were unable to bear arms fed and clothed the soldiers. All sections, all classes and all professions seemed thrilled with the new-born love of liberty. The clergy were zealous leaders and the physicians cheerfully gave their skill to the sick and wounded. Many rich willingly became poor for the sake of national independence, and in consequence of their generosity, were conspicuous objects of retaliation. All honor to those devoted patriots who held their riches as a loan from fortune subject to the demands of duty and honor. The founders of the government have builded their own monuments, and we can only inscribe upon them our gratitude and reverence.

"The National Society D. A. R. now has a membership of ninety-odd thousand, represented by a President General, a Vice President General, a Treasurer General, a Registrar General, a Historian General, a Librarian General, a Chaplain General and a State Regent for each State.

"Upon these ladies has fallen great honor, and upon them great responsibility. Many of them have turned their beautiful homes into offices, where they work, night and morning, for the D. A. R., giving up the tea table and the bridge table, the matinee and the ballroom for the cause they love so well.

"These ladies compose what is known as the National Board of Management, and by their work and by their personality the Society is known and judged. Speaking for them on this occasion, I feel sure that the greatest boon they would ask would be to know that their conduct of their several offices has met with the approval of the members of the National Society. They go—a dozen times a year or more—from distant homes, many of them at their own expense, to attend the regular and called meeting of the board—Nebraska and Florida, Maine and Louisiana, Georgia and California, side by side, wrestling with questions of expediency concerning all the departments of our great work. Sometimes if you should be disposed to pick a flaw in the management, remember these things.

From a handful in eighteen hundred and ninety the organization has grown in twenty-three years to almost or quite a hundred thousand. Besides adding untold wealth to the history of the world by the valuable collection of pedigrees of these members, the National Society has acquired a superb memorial hall, now almost paid for. It stands facing the grounds of the White House, between the Bureau of American Republics and the Corcoran Art Gallery, and is valued at one million dollars.

"We are all familiar, perhaps, with the story of the old darky who went to see the doctor.

" 'Well, Uncle Mose, what seems to be your trouble?'

" 'Marse, somebody done tell me I got ancestors.'

"The wise medico looks at his tongue, feels his pulse, gives him a powder and takes his dollar.

"Or the story of the Charleston lady, who, on being told that the city had gained fifteen hundred in population, regarded her informer seriously for a moment, then said with much feeling: 'This report must be investigated. Where did these people come from?' This was somewhat the attitude towards newcomers in the early days.

"Ladies of the Fifteenth State Conference of Georgia, if I bring a word of greeting from the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, it is to congratulate you on the splendid and energetic work of your State Regent. I do not think that in the whole organization it would be possible to find a State Regent more faithful, more zealous, or more able to show better results, and I know you will unite with me in saying, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.'"

ANNUAL REPORT, STATE REGENT, FIFTEENTH STATE CONFERENCE, D. A. R., AUGUSTA, GA., MARCH 26, 1913.

This is the fifteenth meeting of our State Society, D. A. R., the time for stock-taking, the summing up of all available assets, individually and collectively. Is it not well to question ourselves, by self-examination, what we are doing for patriotic purposes? Common interests, common ideals and close companionship have cemented friendships, the value and regard of which cannot be estimated.

One of the greatest joys that has come to me as State Regent has been the pleasant association of so many kindred spirits in our work. May I also be permitted to express to the officers and chairmen of committees of our State Society, my personal appreciation of their helpful co-operation in the work of the past year. Anything that may have been accomplished must redound to their credit.

The State Regent can accomplish but little by herself. Valuable results can only be secured through the earnest and faithful efforts of those who are charged with responsible duties in connection with the affairs of our Society. For myself and the State D. A. R., I tender to this official and executive body, sincere thanks for their wise and faithful labors.

I shall make no attempt to disguise, either the fulness of the honor with which I am crowned, or the gravity of the responsibility which I realize as the essential condition of that honor's acceptance and enjoyment, and I must confess to you, not in any spirit of mock modesty or assumed humility, but in the plain language of very truth and soberness, how keenly I feel my own inadequacy to measure up to the earnest requirements of the situation, and with what timidity, I may say trepidation, I approach the discharge of my duties as presiding officer. But I would not have any one believe that this mistrust is caused by any fear of the responsibilities implied, by any desire to escape the labor involved, or any wish to avoid the friendly and fraternal clashing of different opinions and plans.

A great poet once said, "Words are but holy as the deeds they cover." Any language that I might use in an effort to express my appreciation of the honor that you have conferred upon me, would be inadequate to the task, and would find its final test, not in its warmth of fervor, but in the service that I am able to render the Society of which we are members, and yet, poor as words are to voice the deeper feelings of the heart, I desire to record, here and now, my keen sense of your courtesy in calling me to the honorable position I am permitted to occupy today. I have no higher ambition, in connection with our D. A. R. work, than to serve the best interests of our organization.

In presiding over this body, it shall be my earnest endeavor to ascertain the concensus of opinion, and to be governed by what shall be decided as best for our Society.

The hearty co-operation of many of you has cheered my heart and lightened the burden of responsibility, in a manner that has been very grateful to me, I can assure you. Now, I rely on your cordial and earnest support. I invoke your generous sympathy, and I trust implicitly your united experience, learning and wisdom to plan wisely and execute energetically and courageously in all that concerns our D. A. R. Society.

I come now to give you an account of the year's work.

National Congress and Memorial Continental Hall.

Immediately after our State Conference, it was my privilege to attend the National Congress at Washington, and by request of State delegation, acted as chairman of said delegation during the Congress.

While visiting Memorial Continental Hall, the beauty of our National Home appealed to me so forcibly, that I could not resist the temptation of procuring a photo engraver of this beautiful building, and later presented one to each chapter in Georgia; hoping that the inspiration of this magnificent structure would stimulate patriotic sentiment.

The plan to lift the debt upon our beautiful Memorial Hall by Mrs. Williard T. Block and Mrs. James M. Fowler had the official sanction of our National Congress and has been presented to the D. A. R. of our State, not only by the State Regent, but also by the State Vice Regent, Mrs. W. H. DeVoe, who is chairman of this committee, will make a report of the work accomplished later.

At the National Executive Board meeting in October, a motion was made and carried, "that each of the thirteen original States be allowed to mark their memorial columns at Continental Memorial Hall." After gaining consent of the Executive Board of our State D. A. R., for me to personally undertake this work, I sent the money to have Georgia placed on our column, and suppose this work will be completed by Congress.

Committee Appointments.

Observing the motion taken at the last Conference, that a board meeting be held within three months after said Conference, it became necessary to appoint State Chairmen and Committees without delay, which was done.

The National Society called for a Committee on the Prevention of the Desecration of the Flag, and our capable member, Mrs. J. A. Rounselle, was given this chairmanship.

Mrs. W. S. Wilson was appointed chairman of the Ebenezer Records. Realizing the great work she was doing, it seemed wise to your State Regent to give her this chairmanship.

These are two new committees added since last Conference. The others will be given in their regular order.

Board Meetings.

Have attended three National Board meetings in Washington, and held two State Executive Board meetings at my home. These meetings were harmonious and much interest was manifested in our D. A. R. work, chairmen of the committees making gratifying reports.

Correspondence.

Have written approximately three hundred letters per month, not including circular letters to Regents, calling attention to "Penny a Day Fund," Revolutionary Reader, Peaceful and Good Will Christmas, Suggestions and Charts for Chapter Reports and Instructions for Chapter Regents, also postals bringing to their notice Fourth of July, October 12th, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Washington's Birthday. This does not include letters sent out by our capable Corresponding Secretary.

Membership.

At present the D. A. R. of Georgia number approximately 2,300, about 400 having been admitted this year.

During the past year it has been our sad duty to chronicle the death of fifteen of our beloved members.

What memories crowd upon us of those who have answered the last roll call, "whose labor is ended." Lessons come to us daily and hourly, in all walks of life, but the lessons taught by the fact that some co-worker has gone to the dimly outlined land of the future, bear with them the strange and unfortunate burden, lessons that call us to look more deeply and earnestly to our advantages and duties. They call to all, that time is passing; that naught but good thoughts and deeds live, or deserve to live after we have gone to that bourne from which no traveler returns. "No future presence, however dear, can fill the places made vacant."

Their memory and their influence point us to means, whereby we can more acceptably fill the trust they have left us.

Our New Delegates.

In the rush and stirring activities of the short session of State Conference, we are likely to forget the member who is with us for the first time. As "Fame's proud temple shines afar," so the State Conference has an irresistible fascination for every D. A. R., but entering its ranks the new members find its veterans so busy with their own plans and ambitions, that she feels as lonely as did Crusoe on his desert Isle. It should be our first thought to extend the new-comer the glad hand of welcome and good fellowship.

We should contribute all that lies within our power to bring our members into closest bonds of sympathy and intercourse, to promote the spirit of unity in order to extend the influence of our organization far and wide throughout our beloved State and Nation.

Chapters Organized.

Since our last Conference the following Chapters have been organized by National Society:

Peter Early Chapter, Blakely, June 14th, 1912.

Ochlocknee Chapter, Thomasville, July 19th, 1912.

Baron De Kalb, Clarkston, November 29th, 1912.

Lanahassee Chapter, Buena Vista, February 21st, 1913.

John Benson, Hartwell, March, 12th, 1913.

Major General Samuel Elliot, Tennille, March, 14th, 1913.

Total number of Chapters in Georgia, 51.

Fifteen other places are now endeavoring to organize Chapters.

Chapters Visited.

It has been my pleasure to meet with a number of Chapters throughout our State. Invitations were received from many I could not accept, owing to previous engagements, but am glad to report visits to the following:

Atlanta Chapter, May 15th, 1912.

Joseph Habersham, May 15th, 1912.

Piedmont Continental, May 15th, 1912.

Council of Safety Chapter, Americus, June 11th, 1912.

Stone Castle and Dorothy Walton Chapters, June 13-14th, 1912.

Brunswick Chapter, June 18th, 1912.

Sergeant Newton, Covington, June 24th, 1912.

David Meriwether, Greenville, July 4th, 1912.

Etowah Chapter, Cartersville, August, 1912.

Atlanta Chapter, September 15th, 1912.

Elijah Clark, Athens, November 1st, 1912.

Stone Castle, Dawson, November 14th, 1912, unveiling Battle of of Eachaway Nochaway Swamp.

Goc. Truetlen Chapter, Fort Valley, November 20th, 1913.
Stephens-Hopkins, Marshallville, November 21st, 1912.
Joseph Habersham, Atlanta, December 15th, 1912.
Pulaski, Griffin, January 22nd, 1913.
Hannah Clark, Quitman, January 24th, 1913.

Ochlocknee Chapter, Thomasville, January 28th, 1913.
John Benning, Moultrie, January 29th, 1913.
Nathaniel Abney, Fitzgerald, January 30th, 1913.

Also visited Baron De Kalb Chapter, Clarkston, while in process of organization.

With much pleasure, I noticed the enthusiasm and interest manifested by the above Chapters, and my personal visits gave me a better insight as to the prevailing conditions. Coming in close contact with members and the cordial reception extended on all occasions, was productive of the highest degree of social intercourse, making these visits not only ones of great pleasure, but giving to me a greater impetus in our work, and possibly causing a stimulation of interest on the part of others.

Historic Sites.

Boulders were unveiled at Chehaw by Council of Safety Chapter, Americus, June 14th; by Lyman Hall, Waycross, at Coloraine, July 29th; Battle of Eachawaynochaway Swamp, Stone Castle Chapter, Dawson, November 14th.

The boulders were all unveiled with appropriate exercises, details of which will be given by local Chapters, and by Chairman of Historic Sites, Mrs. Charles C. Holt, as well as the work contemplated for 1913.

Your attention should be called to the article by Stiles A. Martin, in Atlanta Constitution, February 23rd, of the "Thrilling Stories of Georgians Who Died in Fight to Free Texas," and his suggestions that it would be fitting to erect a memorial at Macon, where the first meeting in Texas behalf was held. This is worthy of your profound consideration. We have funds for making historic sites, and would recommend that the chairman of this committee be empowered to use this money and mark spots in places where Chapters do not exist, according to motion on our books, and this Conference designate such places to be marked during the coming year.

Meadow Garden.

Meadow Garden, this historic spot, which was the home of George Walton, was purchased by the National Society, and should appeal to the pride of every Georgia Daughter. Mrs. Harriett Gould Jeffries, our honored chairman, has been untiring in her efforts to maintain this home of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, in a manner creditable to our organization, and every Chapter in Georgia should readily respond to the support of Meadow Garden.

Revolutionary Soldiers' Graves.

The Henry Walton Chapter, of Madison, marked with appropriate exercises the grave of Benjamin Fitzpatrick, pioneer citizen and Revolutionary soldier on November 3rd.

The Oglethorpe Chapter has made special efforts to have the remains of Governor Clark and his wife removed from St. Andrew's Bay, Fla., to our State, and will soon be able to have this reinterment.

A great deal of interest from other chapters is being manifested with regard to locating and marking soldiers' graves.

Mrs. R. P. Spencer, chairman of this committee, will give report in full.

Midway Monument.

It is with great pleasure that I refer to the fact that our National Government has at least appropriated ten thousand dollars for the erection of a suitable monument at Midway in honor of Gov. Screven and Gov. Stewart. As we understand, this work is in course of construction, and will soon be completed.

RECORDS.

The preservation of our records is of vital interest to all. This work has been much handicapped by lack of financial support. As a means of relief, I would recommend that a committee be appointed from this Society to draft a bill to be presented to our Legislature, petitioning the General Assembly to make an appropriation for the preservation of records found in each of the oldest counties, as they are important to complete the early history of Georgia. I would advise that a D. A. R., skilled in such work, be appointed to perform this important task, and that the results of these transactions be turned over to the compiler of State Records.

Mrs. W. L. Peel, our competent chairman, will submit her report at the proper time.

Patriotic Anniversaries.

Most of our chapters celebrate Flag Day, also Fourth of July, with appropriate exercises.

Georgia Day was observed by a few, and this day should be more prominently brought forth by our Daughters.

Washington's Birthday was unanimously observed throughout the State.

The movement set forth by your State Regent for a Peaceful and Good Will Christmas, has met with the general approval of the press and public.

I call your attention to July 11th, as the day set apart by our State Conference in 1910, to decorate Revolutionary Soldiers' graves. Our beloved Mrs. R. H. Hardaway has been active in her efforts for the same celebration of Fourth of July.

American Monthly Magazine.

The increased subscription to the American Monthly Magazine, the Official Organ of the D. A. R., is due largely to the efforts of our energetic Chairman, Mrs. J. A. Perdue, who will receive subscriptions to same during this Conference.

Year Books.

Many Year Books have been received this year from Chapters, and they should send copies to Librarian General at Washington. Let me impress upon Chapters the necessity of having this book $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$, as prescribed by National Society.

Historic Program.

The Historic Programs, sent out by our beloved Honorary State Regent, Mrs. J. H. Redding, are of inestimable worth to Chapters, and are highly appreciated. These programs are to be printed in book form, and would advise all Chapters to secure a copy.

Patriotic Education.

Let the D. A. R. of Georgia continue to educate the public as to the D. A. R. work.

Would suggest that the Chapters give special attention to the study of America, also the study of our Constitution—establish story-telling hours for children in school, libraries and playgrounds. Through the stories of our Colonial and Revolutionary periods the heroes and heroines become to our children real people, and when they grow older they will not consider the history of our country an uninteresting subject.

We are proud of Martha Berry, Rabun Gap, Tallulah Falls and Mineral Bluff schools, but there is a great field for similar industrial schools in the southern part of our State, and while continuing our support to the above, I would strongly recommend that the D. A. R. start such a movement at an early date, and let each Georgia Daughter give her support and co-operation.

Our efficient Ex-State Regent, Mrs. John M. Graham, as Chairman, will give her report later on Patriotic Education and Martha Berry School, and feel sure you will be gratified with this report.

Revolutionary Reader.

The outline set forth by your State Regent to obtain material for Revolutionary Reader has been very cordially received, and papers have been sent by many Chapters.

It was very gratifying to myself, and no doubt will be of interest to you to know, that this plan was referred to by our Historian General in her report to the National Board, October meeting, as being "so broad in scope and so exceptional in merit, as to demand the attention of the National Society."

The committee appointed to review these papers, and select the ones to be read at this Conference, will apprise you of this selection in due time. All papers will be retained with a view of publishing in book form when sufficient material has been collected.

Memorials and Landmarks.

Would call your attention to the excellent assistance given Mr. Lucien Knight, in his book, "Memorials and Landmarks," by Miss Anna M. Cane, of Washington, Ga., whose work is recognized throughout the whole State as of greatest value to our D. A. R. organization. The above book should be read by every Daughter in our State, as it is right in line with our work.

Gift Scholarships.

Our dearly beloved Mrs. A. C. W. Harris, of Fort Valley, was chairman of this committee at the time of her death. Mrs. J. S. Lowry, of Dawson, was appointed in her place, and in the limited time she has done most efficient work, and no doubt we will see results from her labors during the coming year. I would strongly urge chapters to secure these scholarships, as they cost nothing but a little labor.

Emily Hendree Park Memorial.

The bronze tablet with bas-relief of our beloved Mrs. Emily Hendree Park will be in place by April 1st, in the library of Memorial Continental Hall. The donation of books, as a memorial, is very popular with National Society, but Georgia is the first to thus honor one of her Daughters. The report of this work will be given later by Mrs. F. H. Orme, Chairman.

Welfare of Women and Children.

One of the most important committees is that of Welfare of Women and Children, and our Chairman, Mrs. Frank Fleming, of Augusta, will give you an interesting report on this subject.

Compulsory Education.

Mrs. A. O. Harper, who has had this work in charge, will give her report as to results in Georgia, along this line, and prospects in view.

Conservation.

Conservation, the literal definition of which is "the act of keeping or preserving from injury." This subject will be dealt with in its entirety by Miss Anna C. Benning, Chairman.

Bloody Marsh and Frederica.

The Executive Board decided that it was best to withdraw our efforts in marking Bloody Marsh (as another Patriotic Society is placing a tablet on this spot) and recommend that we give our attention to the Sea Wall at Frederica.

Historic Post Cards.

This work is being accomplished by our Historian, Miss Ruby Ray, in securing post cards of historic spots throughout the State, is one which should command the attention and appreciation of every Daughter in Georgia.

State Badges.

A motion was carried at State Conference in Brunswick, adopting the Coat of Arms of Georgia as our badge, therefore, have taken the liberty of arranging with J. E. Caldwell, 902 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, to supply these badges at $1.00 each. They are appropriately designed, made of silver, gold and enamel plating.

Real Daughters.

Last, but by no means least, comes our Real Daughters.

"Oh, they were queens in the stately hall,
With smiles and steps of the lightest fall."

They are rapidly passing from our ranks. Let us shower them with kindness and good cheer, while yet they are with us. Chairman of Real Daughters will report later.

By-Laws.

Our National By-Laws were amended at the last Congress, which makes it necessary for our State By-Laws to be amended to conform to same. Your State Executive Board, at November meeting, recommended our By-Laws remain as they were until this Conference. I would call your attention to the fact that our By-Laws must now conform to the National, and would ask the unanimous consent to have the Committee on Rules revise same to conform to the National, and to include amendments and changes made by Congress, 1913, to be printed in our proceedings of this year.

SOPHIE LEE FOSTER,

State Regent, Georgia D. A. R.

MRS. MORGAN'S ADDRESS, PRESENTING PORTRAIT TO MEADOW GARDEN.

Madam State Regent, Madam Vice President General, Madam Chapter Regent, Members of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in Georgia Conference Assembled:—

The honorable privilege and pleasure has been accorded me of presenting the Meadow Garden, the portrait of John Adam Treutlen, first governor of Georgia, under the State Constitution,

The portrait is the gift of his great-great grand-daughter, Miss Cleckley, a resident of this beautiful and historic city.

It is not necessary that many chapters in history be written, pages of encyclopedias covered, and lengthy biographical sketches be read describing minutely minor details of an event, or dwelling upon all the incidents of a noted man's life, from boyhood up and through the crucial vital points in his career, for us to approximately gauge the influence upon the world of that event, or to correctly estimate the character and services of such a man.

"Cæsar wrote: "I came, I saw, I conquered." To the active imagination, the healthy imagination that sees visions—and unless we see visions, we are as dead wood upon the sea of life—this terse, strong, illuminating sentence of Cæsar's contains three volumes in six words. The words, "I came," fills the first volume with descriptions of preparations for a foreign war, the anxieties, regrets, and hopes, in the leave-taking; the dangers of the passage across treacherous waters. "I saw," gives us the second volume, in which we learn of anxious pains-taking search for a strategic point of landing, of the careful inspection of a strange country and people. The third volume, "I conquered," brings vividly before us scenes of battle, of wounds, hopes and despairs, of final mastery, and shouts of victory!

So, the almost sparse mention of Governor Treutlen in Georgia history, leaves no doubt in our minds as to his correct measure.. Plainly and distinctly we realize he was a big man; big of stature, big of brain, big of heart, big of courage, big in his services to his country—a torchbearer to the "Sons of Liberty"—and later a wise counsellor and guide to the struggling citizenry of Georgia.

Let us see how much of his greatness may have been due to heredity; to what extent the qualities that led to his success were born in him; why, without a moment's hesitation as to personal loss, and danger, he risked his all in a hazardous cause; why, instinctively, he realized that before a king claimed him as a subject, God had planted in him the soul of a man!

The Vallenses were a sturdy, virile, purposeful people, living on the sloping sides and in the green valleys of the Piedmontese Alps.

Like all mountaineers, they had the spirit of independence so strongly ingrained in their nature that their aggressiveness was unlovable and irritating at times, even when there was no point at issue. They seemed to have been ushered into life with a note of protest already on their tongue's end.

In the fifteenth century certain happenings disturbed their sense of right and decorum; to their rugged virtue and habits of honest dealing, the church and priesthood seemed to be falling away from the highest ideals. Their discontent was soon made articulate and pronounced; persecution and punishment, in consequence, dogged their every step, and life grew hard and harder for them, and prosperity and plenty bade farewell to their dwelling places.

The government and church, however, realizing the intrinsic value of such a brave (even if antagonistic) people, made offers of pardon and rehabilitation if they would recant and return to the fold. But they were not of a race "that bends the pregnant hinges of the knee, that thrift may follow fawning." They would not even consent to be silent, they believed that a negative righteousness was almost as evil as sin. They believed that God approved of that righteousness only that waged a perpetual warfare for reformation.

We have a great way of expanding the chest and saying in sonorous tones, that reach the gallery at least, that "One with Right is a Majority, and must prevail." It was not so in the early centuries; we know it was not so in the '60s of the last century, it is not so in this twentieth century, nor has it been so in fact at any time.

We can then well imagine the outcome of this uneven conflict, the few against the many; the heroic struggles, whether wise or unnecessary, of these sturdy Alpine reformers ended in sorrow, in pain, wounds, prisons, poverty and final banishment. We can see nowhere in their lives any power, spiritual or temporal, ameliorating the hard conditions surrounding and pursuing these unfortunate folk, who suffered so willingly and bravely for conscience sake. To the "what, how and wherefore" mind of today it is all so strange!—this tremendous, uncritical sublime faith, this unquestioning acceptance, "of the weary weight of an unintelligible world." I shall relate a little incident right here that shows in marked contrast, the difference between the attitude of the mountaineers of the fifteenth century and that of these later-day times. I do so in no irreverent spirit; I am sure you know that, but the humorous side of my nature kept bringing before me, as I read of these Vallenses, a certain camp-meeting which I attended some years ago in the mountains of North Carolina.

One of the afternoons of that meeting was devoted to the telling of their "experiences" by the brethren and sisters in the church. Each was asked in turn by the presiding elder "to rise and tell what the Lord had done for him or her," in the year now far gone into the warm glow of the summertime.

It was interesting to listen as they told of fine crops, good health, sufficiency of labor, plenty of children, cattle multiplying rapidly, and pig-pens full to overflowing.

One brother, with a droll cut of the eye, said he wanted to tell how lucky he had been in a horse trade. He had actually swapped off his blind mare for a horse with two good eyes, and only a sore on its back to the horses discredit.

One old man sat off in an obscure corner of the tent, quiet, glum, only uttering every now and then a disapproving grunt. His head was bandaged, his elbows showed through his ragged sleeves, and there were two crutches by his side. The elder (as it afterward proved—unwisely), called out: "Brother Simpkins, we have not heard from you yet; please rise and tell us your experience."

The old man rose slowly, and I fancied I could hear his knee joints creak: "Well, Brother Jones," he piped up in a thin, querulous voice. "It hain't no use fer me to speak; if it is the Lord that has hopen all these here members of their good luck—you kin see fer yourself He has nigh about ruint me this year."

Now, had I been a Vallenses, I fear I should have had a feeling "nigh akin" to that of Brother Simpkins, for there seemed never a bit of sunshine came into their lives, only "thunder, lightning and rains." But not so with these good people; they were made of finer clay than I. They suffered and gloried in their suffering.

When the great exodus from their Piedmontese home took place, a remnant settled in Salsburg, that antique town, "old in song and story," once destroyed by Attila, and almost magically rebuilt. (By the way, the ashes of the famous Paracelsus lie entombed there.)

Finally we see a shipload of the descendants of these Vallenses, now become Ealsburgers, crossing the broad Atlantic to help in the upbuilding of the colony of Georgia, and to find thereby a home of peace for themselves, and the opportunity to live and believe as they elected.

You are all familiar with their history in this new land. You know how good and true, and upright they were, and that their sons and daughters have aided materially in the onward march of civilization and progress in the great commonwealth of Georgia.

Of this courageous, robust, resolute stock, came John Adam Treutlen!

I will, with your permission, read some facts in the history of Governor Treutlen, collected and arranged for me by a friend—one who preserved Meadow Garden from misuse, oblivion and decay, whose devotion is untiringly given to preserving its resources and adding to the distinction of its prestige, who ably and intelligently, aided by the Augusta Chapter, guards with zealous love its historical completeness.

(Here Mrs. Morgan read some historical data.)

The old church, built by the Salsburgers in the then St. Matthew's Parish, now Effingham County, is still standing, the oldest church in the State. (I will add, by way of parenthesis, that the next oldest in Georgia is one with which my earliest childhood and girlhood memories are intimately connected—old Kiokee Church in Columbia County.)

If the spirits of the dead can know aught of earthly things, I feel convinced that the shade of this distinguished Georgia patriot and gentleman experiences a sense of restful happiness, of sweet comfort, in the fact that his portrait will hang on the walls of this Georgia "Hall of Fame;" this "Temple of Georgia Immortals," whose dignity and historical completeness is so beautifully and zealously guarded by the Augusta Chapter.

Miss Cleckley has honored herself, has done reverence to the memory of her fine ancestor, and has recognized the high standing and patriotic purposes of the Augusta Chapter in donating this portrait to Meadow Garden. As founder and loyal member of that Chapter, that has richly won the right of wearing the insignia of the grandest body of organized womanhood in the world, with its legend "Home and Country," I voice the gratitude of each and every member in thanking Miss Cleckley for her timely and gracious gift.

REPORT OF STATE EDITOR.

Columbus, Ga., March 25, 1913.

Members of the State Conference—

Ladies:—Your State Editor respectfully submits the following report:

In conducting this department of D. A. R. work, it has been my purpose each week to follow the plan which I gave to you in my Salutory, that was, to lay especial emphasis on unwritten history, to give an important place to Revolutionary story and incident, besides giving news and information of an historic nature, genealogy and records, and to report as much of your Chapter work as was possible for me to know.

I wish to call your attention to the valuable contributions sent to this department, of literary as well as historic value; to the original poems; to the year books compiled; and to the general awakening of interest in historic events, which is directly attributable to the publicity given the D. A. R. work through this, your Official Organ. Often your report proves to be the incentive for some other Chapter to "go and do likewise."

I have refrained from acknowledging the receipt of letters for two reasons; first, to have you find in the columns what you wished to know; and, second, to reduce the postage which must be more than usual, because of the weekly copy having to be mailed to The Constitution. You will see from the itemized expense that I have confined myself to ten cents a week for stamps.

I thank you for your good will and hearty co-operation, and wish for the D. A. R. department many years of continued usefulness.

REPORT OF STATE HISTORIAN.

The story of the growth of the D. A. R. Society in Georgia in the year just passed, and the fine work the Chapters done along patriotic, educational and civic lines, you have already heard from the most excellent report of our State Regent, Mrs. S. W. Foster, and, though this record would bear being repeated many times, I would confine my report to a brief reference to the historic work of the past year.

The D. A. R. of our State have thoroughly awakened to the realization that Georgia is full of history, that there is hardly a county that has not been the scene of historic events of either Colonial or Revolutionary times, or in connection with the days of Indian occupation, or the early years of Statehood. They have realized that when these places are located and marked their section becomes much more interesting to the tourist and visitor; and, also, that by honoring the achievements of the past, the growing youth is stimulated to achieve something for himself.

Several markers have been placed within the last year.

The first of these was erected by the Council of Safety, of Americus; they unveiled on June 14th, 1912, a beautiful marble marker on the site of Chehaw, an Indian town of note, in what is now Lee County.

The Lyman Hall Chapter, of Waycross, on June 29th, 1912, unveiled with impressive ceremonies a large granite boulder at Coleraine, in Camden County; this has, for many years, been counted among the "dead towns" of Georgia, but was in the early days an important trading post with the Indians, and a "treaty spot."

On November 14th, 1912, the Stone Castle Chapter, of Dawson, unveiled a rough boulder of Georgia marble on the Echowaynochaway battle-ground, situated about eight miles from Dawson.

Much progress has also been made in locating historic places by Chapter Regents, and through the work of the Historic Post Card Committee.

The Nathaniel Abney Chapter of Fitzgerald, has located the sites of several forts or block-houses, which, in the period of the war of 1812, protected the frontier, extending from Ft. Hawkins to a point near Darien.

Work has also progressed in locating the McIntosh Trail. Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, of Newnan, has traced it from the forking place near Senoia in Coweta County, through Carroll County and into Alabama, where it joined the Natchez Trace and continued westward. I am particularly interested in this trail, as it was my father who, when I became State Editor in December, 1909, caused me to write the first article calling attention to this important old road. When he was a boy, the old trail was still visible, and ran directly in front of his father's home in Newnan.

Mrs. W. H. Yeandle has done some work in tracing the trail from the forks near Senoia toward Augusta, and Mrs. Hardaway asks that some Daughter take up the work of tracing the end which ran to Ft. Hawkins at Macon.

I never fully realized until last summer what a wonderful wealth of history Georgia possesses. During this heated season I spent much time making a list of places in our State, which may be termed "historic spots." This was done to assist me in my work as chairman of the Historic Post Card Committee. I do not claim this to be a complete list, for a more careful research would reveal many historic places I am not now aware of; also, to it may well be added the birth-place or home of our authors of note, and the graves of all of Georgia's early governors.

At the request of the State Regent, I here present the result of this work to the State Conference:

RUBY FELDER RAY,

State Historian.

REPORT OF C. A. R., MRS. T. C. PARKER, CHAIRMAN.

The State Director of the C. A. R. is a great believer in Home Missions and her love and sympathy for children prompts her to say, that when home and children need the mother, there at the fireside, lies her first duty. My children have needed me and it has not been possible to visit other cities to establish Chapters, but in our own city of Macon, we are organizing with over sixty charter members. Fourteen papers were sent on to Washington and accepted, a meeting was called, the name chosen and a few officers elected when one restless little girl interrupted with, "Our papers are most ready, and can't we be charter members, too? It seemed so much nicer to be a charter member than just a plain member, so we telegraphed to Washington and asked that our charter be not granted until several other papers could be prepared.

The officers elected at this meeting were: President, Mrs. John A. Selden, from the Mary Hammond Washington Chapter, D. A. R.; Acting President, Miss Louise Callaway, one of the children; Registrar, Mrs. John R. Harwell, from the Nathaniel Macon Chapter, D. A. R.

At our April meeting we hope to complete the list of officers and be ready for our charter.

The name chosen for our vigorous young chapter has been presented to the National Board and accepted. It will be known as the Fort Hawkin's Chapter, C. A. R.

Next year we hope to visit many towns and cities and beg that each of our D. A. R. Chapters be ready to give us the names of active workers who can assist in organizing a Chapter of the C. A. R.

Georgia people can show as much fine Revolutionary lineage as can be found in any State in the Union. We who know what it means to search for records know how difficult it is to establish lines even now. There are cases where the mother is foreign born and not eligible to membership in the D. A. R., but the father is of fine American lineage and has never been approached on this subject nor given it a thought. Another generation, and it will be impossible to gain the desired information that would give the children of these parents the right claim descent from the best of Revolutionary ancestors. It is fair to future generations to let this fact pass unnoticed? Does not this work vitally concern the life and maintenance of our D. A. R. work in years to come? In establishing Chapters of our Children of the American Revolution we are nourishing the mother chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and doing a good work in helping to perpetuate the memories of our American men, whether serving in the rank of Private or Officer, still an American man and hero?

REPORT OF RECORDS, MRS. WM. LAWSON PEEL, CHAIRMAN.

At the formation of this committee, the chairman at once sent a circular to each member, urging co-operation, diligence, influence—all to be used in stimulating the interest of the public toward an aggressive campaign all along the line of individual and public endeavor. The response was generous, many sending valuable papers and documents, and others writing of work to be undertaken. Along the lines of Indian research especially, results have been most gratifying. No State in the Union is so rich in Colonial and Revolutionary Indian remains as is Georgia, and the work done during the year by our Chapters in marking sites and establishing trails and province roads has indeed been gratifying. I will not anticipate the reports of the Regents by speaking in detail of the work of the Chapters, but the fine papers of Mrs. Yeandle and Mrs. Hardaway on the McIntosh Trail, are most valuable records of our earliest history. Mrs. Walker has also written some fine articles on these subjects, showing great research.

The localities marked by our Chapters are numerous and to such a degree has the sentiment for historic preservation developed that our society now contemplates the erection of many tablets and other memorials.

It goes without saying that efforts of this sort awaken not only a deeper sense of civic pride, but makes for the highest grade of good citizenship. Unfortunately more publicity is given to one misdeed than to the work of a dozen historical organizations.

There is a vast amount of work to be done in the field of records proper, work in which every member of the D. A. R. can share. Everybody cannot go into dusty archives and musty manuscripts and unfold to the light the hidden proof of the lives of our forefathers and hold the pages open for us to read what they sacrificed for home and country. But we can all use our influence to create a sentiment among our lawmakers and others, to attend to our perishing county records before it is too late.

I would suggest that the counties of the State be formed into groups, with an original county, and those taken from it in each group; that the chapters in each district band together to take charge of the restoration of all papers in each group. After entering into this agreement with each other, the chapters, I suggest, should send representatives to the county commissioners, talking the matter over with them, appealing to their pride, showing them what others had done. Perhaps they will be glad to have their old papers copied, bound or whatever they need.

At the Little Village of Reidsville in Tatnall County.

The clerk or ordinary has employed an expert copyist with a typewriter to transcribe the old documents. She has a stout leather covered book, the pages of which just fit the arm of the typewriter, and she is paid by the hour, and when a page is finished it is already bound. Chapters with no special object in view could not enlist their services in a nobler work than to club together and employ such a person provided they cannot prevail upon the county officials to do it. Elbert and Jefferson are the two counties holding the most valuable collections in need of present attention. The D. A. R. of Elbert have done already much fine work, but much remains. When the Stephen Heard and Jard Irwin Chapters get ready to take this work in seriously, I feel sure that if necessary every Chapter in Georgia will lend a hand.

As for family records, your chairman has filled considerably more than 100 blanks for D. A. R. applicants since our last meeting, greatly against my will, for I recommend everyone to go to some of our splendid professional geneologists who deserve the patronage. Many hours of tedious research would be saved and many unavailing regrets if every one would look up and keep the records of their own family. An old lady wrote me recently, "My great grandfather kept a diary when he was in the army and every member of the family was required to read it, but when Uncle William moved to Texas in 1897 all the old papers were destroyed. I remember seeing this manuscript when I was a child."

Another writes: "Young people these days do not seem to care to know about their ancestors till the time comes when there is no one to tell them. That was the case with a cousin of mine, Mrs. Janes, of Kentucky. Her sister was telling her of some member of the family, and she said, "Don't talk about people who have died long ago—talk of people of today;" and it was no time before she wrote asking how she was related to Philips Williams."

One lady writes: "Your Chapter is a sort of nursery or incubator for the D. A. R. is why I am asking this,"

Another activity to which our Georgia Chapters might direct themselves is the enforcement of the registration law in the case of births, deaths, marriages. There is such a law I am informed, but it is not observed. The Medical Societies have taken the matter up and the bar association it would seem, would also urge it. How significant is the following, cabled recently from Rome: "Newspapers continue to discuss the case of Signora Moschini, the American, who is still in prison, owing to the fact that she cannot produce her birth certificate, which, according to Italian law, must accompany a request to be released on bail."

And the well known case of the young lady of Cuthbert, Ga., daughter of a prominent jurist, who, desiring to be married in Berlin, to a German officer of distinction, was amazed to find she had no birth certificate. Although her mother was present with her in Berlin, it was necessary to secure the services of Judge Arthur Powell, and the German Consul of Atlanta, and after much red tape and wire pulling and the lapse of six months, the wedding bells were permitted to ring. How passing strange these things must seem to foreigners and even in New England, where they record everything and then keep the records!

Let us hope that our new Executive led and inspired by his Guiding Star, will institute a new regime and by his divine right and his good common sense do away with the slipshod methods that have prevailed and that do now prevail "In Dear Old Georgia."

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HISTORIC SITES AND MONUMENTS.

I think there is more interest being manifested by the D. A. R. in Georgia each year of marking historic spots and placing monuments. During 1912 there were several important places marked:

The first was the large boulder placed by the Lyman Hall Chapter, of Waycross, at Coleraine in Charlton County. It was unveiled in commemoration of Peace and Friendship Treaty signed there in 1876, between the United States and Creek Indians.

The second was the boulder erected on June 14, 1912, by the Council of Safety, of Americus, Ga. It was erected at Chehaw, in Lee County. Chehaw was an Indian town on the DeSoto Trail.

The third was the boulder erected by the Stone Castle Chapter of Dawson, Ga., on November 14, 1912, at Echowaynochaway, an Indian town in Randolph County, Georgia.

We are indebted to Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Regent of Sarah Dickinson Chapter, Newnan, for an account of her efforts in tracing the McIntosh Trail. The exact location of these old roads that traversed this section is of inestimable value in the location of historic spots, since the early records throughout the South were burned during the war between the States.

I have been furnished with a very interesting list by Mrs. J. L. Walker, of Waycross, of places which can be marked in Eleventh Congressional District:

Irwin County: Battlefield on Allapha River. A decisive battle took place there between the whites and Indians.

Appling County: Homerville, the first County site, now a dead town.

Glynn County: Lanier's Oak at Brunswick, Fort St. Simon, Fort Ferderick, Battlefield of Bloody Marsh, Old Slave-market at "The Village," Wesley's Oak, St. Simon Village, Bachelor's Redoubt, The Spanish Burying Ground, etc. Frederica contains many historic places that are easily found.

Camden County: Cumberland Island, Fort Williams, Fort Varrington (later Fort Howe), Burnt Fort, Fort St. Andrew, Fort Pickering, Fort McIntosh, Fort Henderson, Dungeness and the grave of Gen. Harry Lee.

There are three noted dead towns in Camden. The first seat of justice was Jefferson-ton, on south side of Satilla River, Centerville and Coleraine.

Point Peter, Camp Pinckney, the remains of an old Spanish Mission.

Jekyl Island has an old garrison, also a site where a brewery once stood that furnished beer for Oglethorpe's troops.

Fairfield (the old home of General John Floyd.)

The grave of General Floyd at the same place.

John Brown (Revolutionary Soldier) sleeps in the St. Mary's Cemetery; also, Maj. Clarke, who, not only fought in the Revolution, but in the war of 1812.

Charlton County: The old historic site of Maj. Clarke's mill is situated near where Folkston now stands, Fort Floyd, Fort Defiance, Trader's Hill (a former County site and trading post, but now a dead town.)

Echols County: A number of beautiful caves in the County.

Lowndes County: Troupville (dead town); also, another ancient town whose history is veiled in mystery.

Ware County: Tebeauville (dead town), Indian battleground, and an old relay station.

Mrs. C. A. Fricker, of Americus, furnished me with the following: Fort Early, near Cordele, a historic spot, which should be marked, one of the hardest fought battles with the Indians.

Rocky Ford, Cedar Creek Breastworks, etc., in same locality.

On his trip from Ft. Oglethorpe to Macon in October 1912, Capt. Leary, of the U. S. Army urged that all the old battlefields in the State should be marked.

The old Gazetteer, published in 1837, tells of the Forts of Georgia. Fort Argyle is on the west bank of the Ogeechee, in Bryan County. It was built in 1733 to protect the early settlers from invasion by the Spaniards, but is long ago in ruins.

Fort Barrington is on the east bank of the Altamaha, 14 miles above Darien, built by the Carolinians in 1720 to prevent the escape of negroes to the Spaniards in St. Augustine.

Fort Early is on the Flint River, below Lawrence.

Fort Gaines is on the Chattahoochee, in the northwest part of Early County. It is now a flourishing city.

Fort Hawkins is on the east side of the Ocmulgee, opposite Macon. Col. Hawkins, for a long time the benevolent agent of the Creek Indians, resided at this spot.

Fort James, on the west bank of the Altamaha, is 50 miles above Darien, and 12 miles below the mouth of the Ohoopce.

Fort Jackson is on the west side of the Savannah and three miles below the city. Is kept in repair.

Fort Lawrence is in Crawford County, on the Flint, and was for some years, till 1826, the residence of the agent for the Creeks. Here a treaty was concluded on January 22, 1818, for two tracts of territory, one west of the Altamaha, the other embracing DeKalb, Newton and other counties. Boats have ascended to this spot.

Fort Perry is in Marion County, 30 miles west of Fort Lawrence.

Fort Scott is in Decatur County, on the west side of the Flint River.

Fort Wayne is in the southern part of Savannah.

Fort Wilkinson is on the Oconee, three miles below Milledgeville. Here a treaty with the Creeks was held on June 16, 1802, by which a considerable portion of the land between the Ocmulgee and Oconee was obtained.

Fort Frederica was built by General Oglethorpe in 1736, on St. Simon's Island. The fort has long since gone into decay.

Among the lost towns in the State is Franklinville, the capitol of Lowndes County in 1829. It was 36 miles northeast of Thomasville. It is on the map, but absorbed by change of travel.

Travelers' Rest was once a regular place, was on the road, but Montezuma and Oglethorpe absorbed it.

Hartford was once the capitol of Pulaski County, but dried up, except the sea shells, which are there in abundance, though 130 miles from the ocean.

Drayton, in 1837, was the capitol of Dooly. It was on the east side of the Flint, but it is a town in name only.

Barrien was the capital of Dooly up to 1835. But political friends of Col. Drayton, of South Carolina, being out of humor with Mr. Berrien, changed the capital to Drayton. Vienna, in time, absorbed Drayton.

Danville, on the west side of the river from Drayton, was in Sumter County, but it is lost. One of these villages was a Whig and the other a Democratic town. Great bitterness existed and they refused all social affiliations with each other.

Double Cabins, in Henry County 18 miles southwest from Indian Spring, on the line of Pike, was once a popular spot where travelers rested, but has since passed out.

Fortville was a small village east of Clinton in Jones County, but no village now.

Franklin was a village opposite West Point, in Troup, on the east side of the river, but called West Point in 1832. By act of the Legislature, West Point covered both villages, Franklin losing out.

Gladesburg, nearly 10 miles northeast of Eatonton on the road to Park's Bridge, has lost its identity.

Trickem, or Trick Him, was, in 1827, three and a half miles northwest of Devil's Half Acre, on the Monticello road. The place was simply a dram shop, and the story goes that a drunken man was swindled out of a $20 bill when the shop was in its prime, and he named it Trickem. But the shop closed many years ago.

Devil's Half Acre, in Putnam, 10 miles from Eatonton, had better luck. Its dram shop was noted prior to 1827, when a big revival was held in the community, and the Half Acre, purchased there in the first settlement of the County, became prominent for its sobriety, and began to increase in size, and stores and a Methodist meeting house were erected.

There was a Hillsboro in Baldwin and it was the seat of justice for Baldwin for three years, but became a part of Putnam, six miles out of Eatonton. It was distinct from Hillsboro of Jasper, which was a pretty place way back in 1827, and is now a village of improtance. It was not named, however, for Ben Hill, though he was born there.

Marion was once the capital of Twiggs County. It was about 20 miles southeast of Macon and eight miles east of the Ocmulgee. It was a thriving place. It had many stores, four law offices, four doctors' shops, two taverns and an academy, and Jeffersonville, when its neighbor, Marion, was a flourishing village, was called Raines' Store. But time and circumstances bring mutations to towns as well as to individuals.

Petersburg, at the confluence of the Savannah and Broad Rivers in Elbert County, was once a large and flourishing village. It was the depot for tobacco raised north of it and about it and floated to Augusta; but tobacco gave way to cotton, which was thrown upon boats without inspection, and Petersburg lost its prosperity.

I wish to recommend that the Mary Hammond Washington and the Nathaniel Macon Chapters of Macon erect a memorial to the gallant Georgians who went to assist Texas. There were one hundred and fifty of these who, within twelve days after the first meeting was held in Macon, were fully organized and equipped and began their march.

ANNIE YOUNG HOLT, Chairman.

REPORT OF EBENEZER RECORDS.

The work on the Ebenezer Records proceeds slowly but surely. On account of their condition and style of language it is difficult to find persons who are able to translate them. However, a fresh impetus is given to the work by the hope that the Congressional Library will photograph the manuscript, and when this is done any number of persons can work at the same time, and the originals be kept intact and uninjured. We can reasonably hope by our next conference to see this work practically, if not entirely, completed. Should they not all be translated by that time, they will be in shape that any one can have access to them, and it appears now that it is only reasonable to expect that the book will be upon the market in 1914.

CARRIE P. WILSON, Chairman,
Savannah, Ga., May 28, 1913. Ebenezer Records.

MEADOW GARDEN.

Mrs. Harriett Gould Jeffries, Chairman.

Receipts from all sources for Historic Meadow Garden in 1912, $51.50; Donations from D. A. R. Chapters of Georgia, $31.30; disbursements for keeping up Meadow Garden, $90.85. The deficit to be paid by the Augusta Chapter, D. A. R.

Many interesting gifts received for the historic home, viz.: Books from Hon. Thos. W. Hardwick; handsome old mahogany work table from William S. Shepherd, of Columbus; large U. S. flag from Mrs. W. A. Burnham, of Irvington-on-Hudson; two valuable candelabras, owned by Col. Samuel Hammond, of Revolutionary fame, and given by his granddaughter, Mrs. Ellen Belamy, Macon; President Woodrow Wilson, and ex-President Taft sent their pictures.

REPORT OF TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE.

In behalf of the Transportation Committee, I regret to report that we were unable to secure rates for the officers and delegates to the Fifteenth Conference, held in Augusta.

The Southeastern Passenger Association rules (as per letter attached) are very positive, and under their ruling no concession under 200 delegates would be allowed.

This committee wishes to recommend that a committee be appointed in concert with a committee from the U. D. C., and the Women's Clubs make an application to the Railroad Commission, that they make a special rule that a half-rate be given to these three organizations for their annual convention.

Very respectfully submitted,

MRS. JOSEPH H. MORGAN, Chairman.

REPORT OF HISTORIC POST-CARD COMMITTEE.

The Historic Post Card Committee was organized for the purpose of bringing the historic places of Georgia more to the general notice of the people, and in that way familiarize them with the history of our State.

In order to thoroughly cover the state in our search for both prominent and little known historic places, I, as chairman, assigned to each member of my committee one of the Congressional districts, asking her to send to me a post card of any historic place in her district, of which there were post cards, and make a list of all places of historic note of which there should be post cards printed. The committee expects to secure the aid of a good firm to have nice colored post cards made of these places.

When the work is done we hope to have all these historic post cards handled by dealers in every section of the State.

The work of the Historic Post Card Committee, like all work requiring research, progresses slowly.

The first district, composed of the ten counties nearest Savannah, was in charge of Mrs. Lewis D. Lowe, of Atlanta. Seventeen post cards of historic places in this section were sent in by her. This is the richest part of Georgia in its wealth of early history and it has been impossible to complete the work in this district.

The Third Congressional District was in charge of Mrs. C. A. Fricker, of Americus. Mrs. Fricker sends a card of the home of Speaker Charles R. Crisp, in Americus, several views of Andersonville Cemetery and prison grounds; a card of the Chehaw Memorial Stone and a picture of the old fort at Ft. Gaines. She is still at work, is trying among other things to get a card of the spot where Jefferson Davis was captured, which is three miles west of Irwinville in Ben Hill County.

The Sixth Congressional District was in charge of Miss Maude Clarke Penn, of Monticello. She reports several historic places, of which there are no post cards; among them, Jackson Springs, near Monticello, and Ben Hill's Birthplace, near Hillsboro, in Jasper County.

The Ninth Congressional District was in charge of Mrs. G. A. Weaver, now living in College Park. She sends cards of the tree at Jefferson, Ga., where Dr. Crawford W. Long first discovered anaesthesia in 1842, and of the monument to Dr. Long in Jefferson unveiled in 1910.

The Eleventh Congressional District was in charge of Mrs. J. L. Walker, of Waycross. The Eleventh is another district full of early history and Mrs. Walker's report shows a thorough knowledge of the section. On Cumberland, Jekyl and St. Simon's Islands are the sites of a number of important colonial forts, while in the counties of the mainland are sites of "dead towns" and old battlefields.

Could the entire State of Georgia be searched as thoroughly for places of historic interest, as Mrs. Walker has done in the Eleventh District, and the result published, the information so gleaned would not only serve as a splendid aid to the D. A. R. in their work of marking historic spots, but would be of invaluable assistance to the future historian, who is to write a full and correct history of Georgia. ...

I thank these faithful members of my committee for their assistance, and, though the work has only made a good start, I feel that what we have accomplished is of much value.

RUBY FELDER RAY, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RULES.

At the last Congress of our National Society an amendment to the Constitution was adopted, which in effect, repeals or nullifies several of the by-laws of the State Conference. Until that Congress the Constitution did not expressly recognize State Conferences, except where it provided that "the State Vice Regent" might be chosen "at the annual State Conference." The amendment gives certain powers to State Conferences, but at the same time limits their powers, and provides how they shall be constituted and what their basis of representation shall be.

It will not longer be necessary for the State Regent to be chosen by the delegates from the State to the Continental Congress. The State Conference will have the power to elect the State Regent as well as all other State officers.

The Congress provided that this amendment as to State Conferences should not go into effect until after the next Congress, except where the Daughters in a State should decide to put it into effect in that State before that time.

Under this amendment, the State Conference is to be composed of delegates from Chapters. The amendment does not provide that the membership of the Conference shall include others than Chapter representatives. Of course, it must be understood that the State Regent is to preside, though this is not stated. We do not understand it to mean that the State Conference may not provide that State officers and Chairmen of Committees shall be allowed to take part in discussions of the Conference, even though the right to vote is confined to Chapter representatives.

The ratio of Chapter representation which this amendment provides for the State Conference is different from the ratio provided for in the by-laws of our State Conference. The amendment establishes for the State Conference the same ratio that the National Constitution establishes for Chapter representation in the Continental Congress, but allows the State Conference to increase the representation from Chapters in the Conference, provided that the increase is "in uniform ratio." For instance, the Conference may multiply by two the Chapter representation which would be allowed at the Continental Congress, and have double the number of delegates at the Conference that the Chapters would be entitled to have at the Congress. The language of the amendment is as follows:

"Each State shall be allowed to elect its own officers and to adopt its own by-laws to suit its needs, conformable to the Constitution and by-laws of the National Society.

"The State Conference must be a body of delegates elected by the Chapters. The number of delegates from each Chapter shall be determined by the rules for representation of Chapters in the Continental Congress, as given in the National Constitution, except that the State Conference may increase its representation in uniform ratio."

In view of this amendment a revision of the by-laws of our State Conference will be necessary. But as other important amendments will doubtless be made at the next Congress, we do not recommend that the present Conference shall adopt a new set of by-laws. At the last Continental Congress the Committee on Revision of the National Constitution and by-laws (a member of which, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, is present at this Conference), made a report recommending a number of changes—among others, a change in the basis of Chapter representation at the Congress, and the addition of a section as to State Conferences. That report is to be acted on at the next Congress, and changes may then be made, which, by the end of next month, might render of no effect by-laws made at the present Conference.

We recommend that in the printed book of proceedings of this Conference any amendments made by the next Congress in the Constitution or by-laws relating to State Conference be inserted, as well as the amendment made at the last Congress; and that this be done under the supervision of the Committee on Rules of the State Conference. It might be well to publish in the same connection the present by-laws of the State Conference, with notes indicating where they have been changed by the action of the Congress. And the Committee on Rules, or a Special Committee on Revision, should be instructed by the Conference to prepare a revision of the by-laws, to be reported to the next Conference.

AUGUSTA S. GRAHAM, Acting Chairman.

REPORT OF REVOLUTIONARY READER COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Revolutionary Reader beg leave to report, that they received quite a number of very excellent papers, and regret that the rules provide for only one paper to be read at this Conference.

After careful deliberation, and taking into consideration all the points of merit, the committee decided that the paper presented by Mrs. M. S. DeVaughn, Archibald Bulloch Chapter, Montezuma, should be given this honor.

MRS. F. H. ORME,

Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PATRIOTIC EDUCATION.

The Committee on Patriotic Education has not received responses from all the Chapters to its requests for reports of educational work since the last Conference. The chairman requests that her attention shall be called to omissions or errors in the report.

Contributions for Scholarship Funds are reported as follows: For the Martha Berry School, Stone Castle Chapter (Dawson), one Scholarship, $50; Fielding Lewis Chapter (Marietta), one Scholarship, $53; James Jackson Chapter (Dawson), one Scholarship, $50; Lachlan McIntosh Chapter (Savannah), one Scholarship, $50; Savannah Chapter (Savannah), one Scholarship, $50; William Marsh Chapter (LaFayette), one Scholarship, $50; Hannah Clark Chapter (Quitman), one Scholarship, $50; Xavier Chapter (Rome), $62.50; Atlanta Chapter, $15; Augusta Chapter, $10; Shadrach Inman Chapter (Hephzibah), $10; Oglethorpe Chapter (Columbus), $10; Thornateeska Chapter (Albany), $5; Button Gwinett Chapter (Columbus), $5; Stephen Hopkins Chapter (Marshallville), $5; John Houston Chapter (Thomas-ton), $5; Nancy Hart Chapter (Milledgeville), $3; David Meriwether Chapter (Greenville), $7.50; Henry Walton Chapter (Madison), amount not named.

Piedmont Continental Chapter (Atlanta), has given two Scholarships to mountain girls; one to Tallulah Falls school, the other at Blairsville Collegiate Institute—cost $75. Dorothy Walton Chapter (Dawson), has given two Scholarships, one at Young Harris Institute, $90, and one to a girl in the School of Photography at Mt. Melville, Tenn., $100; Elijah Clarke Chapter (Athens), maintains a $50 Scholarship at the State Normal School, and is raising money for a permanent Scholarship Fund of $900, which is nearly complete. Two hundred of this was raised in the last year. Governor John Milledge Chapter (Dalton), has given a $50 Scholarship in the Nacoochee Valley School to a great-granddaughter of a Real Daughter; John Houston Chapter (Thomaston), a Scholarship at R. E. Lee Institute, $30, and $4.50 on tuition of another pupil; Button Gwinett Chapter (Columbus), Scholarship at the Columbus Industrial School for a girl at the Orphans' Home, Columbus; Sarah Dickenson Chapter (Newnan), Scholarship at Southern School of Telegraphy, Newnan.

Atlanta Chapter continues a Scholarship at Washington Seminary, Atlanta. The Marist College of Atlanta, has contributed a Scholarship (in addition to those given by it last year) to the Joseph Habersham Chapter (Atlanta), and the Southern Shorthand College (Atlanta), has given three Scholarships to the same Chapter.

At this Conference the following contributions have been made for Scholarships at the James Edward Oglethorpe Memorial School established by Mrs. Dodge at St. Simon's Island: Mrs. Wm. Lee Ellis (Macon), $25; Mrs. T. C. Parker (Macon), $10; Atlanta Chapter, $5; Mary Hammond Washington Chapter (Macon), $5; Mrs. S. W. Foster, State Regent, $5; Gen. James Jackson Chapter (Valdosta), $2; Augusta Chapter, $5; Council of Safety Chapter (Americus), $2; Oglethorpe Chapter (Columbus), $15; Lachlan McIntosh Chapter (Savannah), $5; Mrs. W. H. DeVoe (Brunswick), $10; Elijah Clarke Chapter (Athens), $5; Savannah Chapter, $5; Lanahasse Chapter (Buena Vista), $2; from State fund remaining from Oglethorpe Monument Fund, $50, voted by the Conference.

The Sergeant Newton Chapter (Covington), sent $10 to the chairman of this committee to be used as she thought best. She desires to consult with the Chapter before placing this sum.

The generous help that Chapters in all parts of the country continue to give to children in our southern mountain regions, where such help is most needed, and particularly in Georgia, should be mentioned here. The notable work of the Massachusetts Daughters and their Berry School Committee was referred to at our last Conference. In the reports made to the National Committee on Patriotic Education, the Massachusetts report says: "Most of our Chapters have given contributions for the Martha Berry and other schools for mountain children."

The New Hampshire report says: "The Berry School of Georgia appeals to most of the Chapters; some are sending whole Scholarships, others a half, but all are aiding as they are able."

The Pennsylvania report says: "Contributions towards the education of the Southern mountaineers continue, the Berry School, at Rome, Ga., receiving the largest amount for Georgia."

From the West comes the report: "The patriotic work of Nebraska consists of contributions to schools in the mountain districts of Georgia and North Carolina, almost every Chapter in the State having contributed to this work."

From the Pacific Slope comes the report that a considerable number of the California Chapters have contributed to the great work of our Georgia Daughter, Martha Berry. And like reports come from Connecticut and other New England States, from several Northwestern States, from the Middle West, from New York, and from States nearer to us. Surely we, in Georgia, should not have less appreciation of the needs of these children at our doors—Revolutionary stock from which the best type of citizenship may be moulded, and surely we should not do less for our own people, than the Daughters in other parts of the country are doing for them.

School prizes have been given by the following Chapters: Atlanta, Augusta, Council of Safety (Americus); Governor John Milledge (Dalton); Stone Castle (Dawson); Dorothy Walton (Dawson); Nathaniel Abney (Fitzgerald); Governor Johnson Houston (Thomaston); Fielding Lewis (Marietta.)

Nothing that a Chapter can do will bring better results, for as little expenditure of time, effort, or money, than the giving of prizes for school work relating to historical and other projects of a patriotic character. It is one of the best means for cultivating patriotism in those who are to be our future citizens and those from whom we are to recruit the ranks of this society. Every Chapter in Georgia can and should give a school prize annually, or give to some school a permanent prize to be competed for annually and held by the winner until the next competition. One prize can be made to serve for a number of years

To illustrate: Ten years ago the Chapter of which the chairman of this committee was then Regent (the Joseph Habersham) gave to the Boys' High School of Atlanta, a gold medal, and afterwards gave to the Girls' High School a loving cup, to be awarded annually on Georgia Day, to the pupil writing the best essay on a subject named by the Chapter relating to Georgia, its history or the life of a distinguished Georgian. All the pupils were required to write on the subject, and the name of each winner, with the year of the award was engraved on the prize, so that each of the prizes became a roll of honor. This medal and this cup are still used for the same purpose, thousands of boys and girls have written in the contests, and the good results are beyond estimation. The gold medals given by the Dorothy Walton Chapter and the Fielding Lewis Chapter are awarded weekly, and at the end of the year each medal goes permanently to the pupil who has won it oftenest.

The observance of Georgia Day in schools and elsewhere, and other special features of patriotic educational work, will be dealt with in other reports.

We hope that the able chairman of our Committee on Compulsory School Attendance and her associates will have the active support of all the members of our society in Georgia in their efforts to procure the adoption of a law on that subject at the next session of the Legislature. To give patriotic education we must have school attendance; we must begin by having the children taught to read. We would be recreant to our patriotic mission if we stood by without an effort to aid those children—those future citizens upon whom the destiny of our State or Country may depend—whose parents, through ignorance, indifference, or poverty, do not give them the chance to get the education needed to fit them for citizenship. In Georgia and the other Southern States we have the purest Revolutionary stock in the country. Let it not continue to be said that we have the largest percentage of illiteracy. All the States in the Union, except some of the Southern States, have compulsory school-attendance laws. With proper efforts we should have one in Georgia next summer. Let us take the lead in the fight for such a law. Let us do our best to hasten the day when every Georgian will be able to read his ballot, his Bible, the law he must obey, and the history of his country.

(MRS. JOHN M.) AUGUSTA S. GRAHAM, Chairman.

REPORT OF BLOODY MARSH COMMITTEE.

The compliment of our State Regent extended in appointing me Chairman of your Bloody Marsh Committee was highly appreciated, but accepted with reluctance and many misgivings when I recalled the strenuous and able work of our former Chairman, Mrs. Redding, of Waycross, and the steps already taken by the Colonial Dames.

The meeting of the State Board followed so closely after my appointment that little could be done save to write a letter to each member of my committee apprising them of their appointment.

It was decided at the board meeting in June to confer with the Dames through the respective committees of Daughters and Dames, and that was done. We found our aid not needed in the marking of Bloody Marsh; in fact, the Dames and Sons of the Colonial Wars had perfected all their plans, and in the early spring they will have in place a very handsome monument upon the battlefield and sufficient markers in its vicinity.

In view of these facts, at our November board meeting, it was decided that, as the Colonial Dames had already begun the work of commemorating Bloody Marsh, we, the Daughters of the American Revolution, withdraw in their favor as that period belonged to them.

Thus, our mission in that direction is ended, and I feel very much, I imagine, as Hiawatha did in the primitive days returning to his Minnehaha "Empty-handed, heavy-hearted," yet have the consoling thought that Georgia is still rich in her historic spots and we are needed in preserving and marking yet others of them.

(MRS. BOLLING WHITFIELD) ELLA G. WHITFIELD,
March, 1913. Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF A "SANER FOURTH."

Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Chairman.

It was quite a question what to do, to celebrate in a sane and pleasant manner the birthday of our nation, for some years almost entirely given up to negroes.

As the interest centered in one day our effort was to call attention of the young of this day and to that end we sent an open letter through the Constitution to tell the Chapter Regents in the State. Our Chapter having ready for placing four markers sent by the Government for Revolutionary Soldiers, we planned to unveil that of William Smith, known to very old people and by tradition as "Hellnation Smith." His remains had years before been brought from a neglected Country graveyard, by Dr. North and Judge Dent, and reinterred on the margin of the resting place of our Confederate Dead, a grassy, lovely spot.

On the late afternoon of the Fourth, many gathered there, many more than we had expected. It was noticeable that the very old and the very young predominated, several women with their great grandchildren.

Our Mayor made a little introductory speech after which four little girls unveiled the stone. Then followed quite an oration from one of our young lawyers, Stanford Arnold. Forty little girls dressed in white, sang "America," this ending the day.

So many people had made other plans to be away on this holiday, we were gratified in having so good an attendance.

REPORT OF PATRIOTIC SONG COMMITTEE.

As Chairman of the State Patriotic Song Committee, I desire to submit this, my first State report:

After some delay in finding where copies of the new National Song, "The Song of the Revolution," by Dr. Orme, of Georgia, could be obtained, I immediately communicated with each Regent, writing fifty-eight letters in regard to this song, asking their co-operation and urging them to use our patriotic song at their Chapter meetings. It gives me pleasure to say, I have been instrumental in placing thirty-six copies in the different Chapters, receiving letters from several stating that they had been supplied, and were using patriotic music at their monthly meetings. The "Song of the Revolution" should become familiar to all D. A. R.'s as it was dedicated to us, and no doubt will be generally adopted by the music committees in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS. R. P.) DOSIA HEAD BROOKS,
State Chairman Patriotic Song.

REPORT OF THE GIFT SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE.

In order that we might obtain a clear, concise statement of work being accomplished along educational lines, a Gift Scholarship Committee was appointed.

The death of Mrs. George T. Harris, of Fort Valley, caused a vacancy in that Committee, which I was appointed to fill; this appointment being made in December.

The Scholarship work of the Chapters is one of the most important features of the organization. Keen interest is being manifested by many, and while we have a very creditable showing for this year, we feel that in a short time there will not be a Chapter which does not support a Scholarship. It should be the work of every Chapter.

It was the purpose of this committee to first learn from each Regent what was being done by her Chapter for patriotic education, using this information as a working basis.

It was urged that the name and history of each beneficiary be obtained, as it increases the interest of the Chapter, engendering a feeling of responsibility which the lack of such information would not impart. It would prove an added interest in the child's life to know something of the splendid body of women who are trying to inspire them with courage and energy to bear their burdens for themselves and meet the difficulties of life bravely.

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal souls, if we imbue them with principals, with the just fear of God, and love of fellow men—we engrave on those tablets, something which will brighten eternity."

MRS. J. S. LOWREY,

Chairman Gift Scholarship Committee, D. A. R.

REPORT OF MEMORIAL CONTINENTAL HALL AND BLOCK CERTIFICATES COMMITTEE.

Our former State Regent, Mrs. John M. Graham, in her report last year, voiced my sentiments, when she said, "The highest obligation resting on our society today is the payment of the debt represented by the bonds issued in payment for its home and official headquarters," and your committee wishes to emphasize this fact and urge each and every member of this organization to give this their earnest consideration.

We naturally feel a pride in our National Home, which is one of the grandest memorials ever erected by patriotic women to the heroes of more than a century ago, then why delay in adding our personal efforts to liquidate this debt, which is yours and mine? There has been some interest shown in the past year, but I feel that the progress has been lamentably slow.

In the late summer your chairman wrote to every Chapter Regent and member of her committee, urging active work and co-operation along this line. Later in the fall another letter was sent the chairman of local committee on Memorial Continental Hall and Block Certificate—few replied. Many chapters are so engrossed in their local interest that this important matter has been overlooked. In the past year we have sent Mrs. Willard T. Block the following:

28 names for Block Certificates, 10 for $3.65-----	$36 50
28 names for Block Certificates, 18 for $1.05-----	18 90
Baron DeKalb Chapter, of Clarkston-----	3 65

$59 05

Sent direct to State Treasurer, Mrs. Spencer of Columbus—
Brunswick Chapter for Memorial Continental Hall-----	$10 00
John Benning Chapter, of Moultrie-----	5 00
Nancy Hart Chapter, of Milledgeville-----	2 50

Total-----$76 55

Mrs. L. D. Lowe, of Piedmont Continental Chapter, deserves special mention, having secured from her Chapter nearly one-half the entire number of subscribers for Block Certificates. If each chairman had worked half as hard, what a glorious harvest we would have reaped for our National Home in Washington.

Ladies, let me plead with those of you, who have failed to do your part in this work, begin today and see how many contributions and subscribers for the certificates you can secure. We have yet time before Congress meets to redeem our pledges, and your chairman will gladly receive your gifts, whenever you hand them in, and have them properly accredited to your Chapter. Georgia must not fall behind in this work—she must lead.

(MRS. W. H.) LUCY DILLON DE VOE,
Chairman.

REPORT OF EMILY HENDREE PARK MEMORIAL COMMITTEE.

Your chairman begs leave to submit the following report: The bronze tablet bearing a bas-relief of Mrs. Robert Emory Park, and memorial expressions by Paul E. Cabaret & Co., will be delivered to Miss Gillette, Librarian General, on the 1st of April, 1913, and will cost $178 net f. o. b., New York City, New York exchange; total expense, $182.00.

Finding it impossible to have a book plate made at this time, according to the instruction of the Marietta Conference, which called for a miniature production of this tablet, your Chairman would recommend to this Conference "that instead of having a book plate made, a miniature production of this tablet, that we use the book plate of the National Society, with the words, 'To the Memory of Mrs. Robert Emory Park,' also placed on the book plate."

This recommendation has seemed advisable to your chairman as the photograph of the bronze tablet would not be satisfactory.

The Elijah Clarke Chapter, Athens, has forwarded a number of books to Washington for this memorial.

The following Chapters have contributed to this fund, also personal subscriptions through Mrs. Howard McCall, Treasurer:

Mrs. T. C. Parker, Nathaniel Macon, $10.00; Brunswick Chapter, $5.00; Dorothy Walton Chapter, Dawson, $1.00; Council of Safety, Americus, $2.00; David Meriwether Chapter, Greenville, $5.00; Tomochichi Chapter, Clarkesville, $1.00.

The $1.00 from Clarkesville was reported as H. W. in Marietta proceedings.

Five dollars was credited to Mary Hammond Washington Chapter, instead of the Elijah Clark Chapter, Athens.

Atlanta Chapter, Atlanta, sent in $10.00 on April 8, 1912, included in the report of Mrs. Spencer, Treasurer, but not published.

Amount on Hand at Board Meeting in June-----	$226 27
Amount received since June-----	23 00
Interest -----	6 33

Total amount on hand, March 25, 1913-----$256 10

When the bill is paid for the bronze tablet and book plates, a small sum will still be left in the Emily Hendree Park Memorial Fund.

Your chairman would recommend "that this money be used to purchase books for this memorial."

With every good wish for a successful Conference, this report is Respectfully submitted,

MRS. FRANCES H. ORME, Chairman.

GEORGIA DAY COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mrs. Lee Tramm II, Chairman.

As chairman of Georgia Day Committee, I beg to submit the following report:

Letters were written to the Regent of each Chapter, D. A. R., urging the observance of Georgia Day, especially in the schools. Only a very few Chapters responded to my request for a report of this work. I am sure, however, that there is a decided increase of interest along this line of education.

REPORT OF REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS' GRAVES COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Richard P. Spencer, Chairman.

Your chairman regrets that she cannot give a full and complete report of this year's work, but having been appointed Treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Drake, who resigned on account of illness, my time has been completely taken up by duties of Treasurer, and was unable to give any time to this work.

Much has been accomplished in locating and marking these graves in the last four years through the untiring work of two former chairmen, Mrs. John M. Graham and Mrs. S. W. Foster, but there are many more of these neglected graves scattered throughout Georgia.

Letters were sent out to every Regent. Many of the Chapters are doing active work, and the following names have been reported, and other names will be given in with Chapter reports:

Elijah Cornwell, located by Sergeant Jasper Chapter, but not marked; Wm. Oglethorpe, Benjamin Haygood, Anderson Reddings, James Comer (Monroe County), by Piedmont Continental Chapter.

Three graves located by Elijah Clarke Chapter, Athens.

Archibald Simpson, Abrams Simmons, Mercer, located by Kettle Creek Chapter, Washington.

Baron DeKalb Chapter, Clarkson, are looking for some graves where names have been secured.

Shadrach Inman Chapter, Hepzibah, has marked four graves since organization.

z

Oglethorpe Chapter, Columbus, has marked the graves at Lynnhood Cemetery of Major Thomas M. Nelson and James Allen.

John Houston Chapter, Thomaston, has located several graves.

Tomochichi Chapter, Clarkesville, has located four graves.

Nathaniel Abney Chapter, Fitzgerald, has located two graves—Lieutenant Sergeant Joseph Williams, near Jacksonville, Telfair County, and Gen. John Coffee, in Telfair County.

Proper blanks for application for markers will be furnished by chairman of this committee. The government will furnish, free of charge, markers for these graves. It is required that you give name, rank, company, regiment, state organization, date of death, name of cemetery, city in or near where grave is located when making application.

REPORT OF COMPULSORY EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

The State Compulsory Law Committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution can report no work done by them as yet, save an investigation of the compulsory school attendance bills of forty-three (43) states. We hope from these enactments to frame a bill suited to the needs of our own State. Georgia is one among the five states left in the minority. The science of education is a progressive science and must grow in accordance with the law of evolution. Childhood is the character forming period and it is for the good of the State that character be correctly formed. A state should educate its children because of its economic value; ignorance is always a menace to a community financially. Prevention of crime is far cheaper than punishment.

The Associated Charities of the United States declare that compulsory education law is the most fundamental need of this time. We have many parents (foreigners), who do not understand what education is, need to make good American citizens. The home education of such is entirely inefficient.

The children should be brought in contact with teachers who understand the matter that the children may become Americanized as well as educated. The time has come when every child must be educated, whether child or parent desires it or not.

Children in the streets and alleys are a source of vice and crime, and should be prevented by the State. It is inconceivable that a compulsory education could not save these children without resorting to reform schools.

The compulsory school education bill provides for a special school for children who are on the way to incorrigibility, under the care of a specially qualified teacher who can hold a difficult child and inspire him. The great need of the day is to give to every American child the rights of the schoolroom and open up to them the best possibilities of life.

The conservative masses of the American people have said that education shall be made compulsory and compulsion be made effective. It is no more tyrannical to compel a citizen to educate his own child than to compel him to pay a tax to educate a neighbor's child.

Some provision is required in order to secure attendance at school of children of school age, and to keep in attendance the children already enrolled.

For three hundred (300) years Germany has had compulsory school attendance. Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand, France, Italy and Japan have thoroughly tested the laws; so with others, why not with us? Nothing that we can accomplish is equal in importance to that of getting rid of the dreadful low rate of illiteracy, which statistics show now prevails.

Compulsory education is indeed new in the South, but if it has proven wise and best in other sections, then it proves conclusively it is the best for us. Make education distinct from politics, frame a bill providing for the needs of dependent parents, as well as dependent children.

Opposition to compulsory school attendance has come largely from no provision being made to exempt these children who are the only support of invalid parents and to whom it would be criminal to force to attend school.

Booker Washington, in the New York Independent, says that negroes are making more educational progress in the South than in the North; that where there is abundant educational opportunity the negroes tend to become indifferent, and where there is only a limited opportunity, and where they think they are discriminated against, they are spurred to an unusual effort that is likely to be sustained only during the continuance of the conditions by which it is inspired.

Booker Washington sums it up in these words, "The one way to inspire the negro with an education is to let him know that there is some one in the community that is opposed to letting him have it." If this be true, this leaves Southern opponents of compulsory education with less basis for persuasive argument than ever.

How can compulsory education disorganize the labor market when the majority of the young negroes are acquiring or have acquired an education in spite of the fact that their opportunities are limited. A compulsory primary education law would not alter the situation as far as young negroes are concerned; but it would educate white boys and girls, whose parents are too ignorant or too indifferent to help them to an education when the opportunity is at hand.

There is no field on earth more suited for true technical and industrial education than here in the South. We need an education that will dignify labor. In framing our bill let us curtail the hours of teaching from a literary standpoint, require every pupil to take a two (2) hours' course in vocational or industrial departments, such as domestic science, manual arts and everything that these embody.

The next General Assembly could render no truer service than to force the compulsory school law into effect.

We Daughters of the American Revolution must talk, talk compulsory law in our homes, to our sons and to our husbands, that the men of the family may interest themselves. Let the Chapter Regents bring the matter up in Chapter meetings and urge co-operation of every Daughter. Enlist all women's organizations in united effort. We know a great movement as we mean to agitate is not a thing of a day, but we are in for war; constant labor in season and out of season will accomplish much.

MRS. A. O. HARPER, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE WELFARE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Mrs. Frank Fleming, Chairman.

The work of this committee is divided into two classes: the betterment of conditions for dependent and delinquent women and children, and the establishment of a peaceful Christmas throughout Georgia.

In the past year we have confined our work for Women and Children to an investigation of existing conditions and much needed reforms. We find that Georgia has no Birth Registration Law, and the importance of such a law cannot be too highly estimated.

It has been said that a birth certificate is to every child an actual asset his whole life through. There is hardly a relation in life in which such a record may not prove to be of the greatest value; while as a preventative of infant mortality, it is an imperative necessity. It has been stated that in the degree to which the infant mortality is lowered, to a far greater degree will we diminish the great army of defective and degenerate children throughout the States.

In our State Sanitarium, there are eighty-four feeble-minded young people, under 18 years of age. By sanitation and proper care during the first years of their lives, much of this might have been avoided. A large portion of these children can be benefitted by training, and in time be partially self-supporting; but so far, very little has been done along that line, though that little has been most encouraging. Our negligence in these matters has been through lack of knowledge—not through carelessness. Let us see that these less fortunate children receive the proper training, and let us help in establishing a Birth Registration Law in our State. * * * * *

The campaign begun by the D. A. R. of this State for a safe and "sane celebration" of Christmas day, has been given earnest support by the press, and this has greatly helped in bringing this much needed reform before the people. From every city and town in Georgia have come protests against the abuse of the day, and reports of serious accidents due to the toy pistol, and other explosives.

As a result of the D. A. R. Campaign, against such abuse, Dawson presented a petition to Council requesting that steps be taken to enforce during the holidays, laws against raffling, shooting for prizes, the sale of fireworks and the sale of liquor.

Council adopted the motion that the laws prohibiting these evils be enforced as strictly as possible. Christmas in Atlanta was fifty per cent saner this year than last. There was a complete absence of boisterous drunken crowds on the streets, and only one fatality. Valdosta reported plenty of merry-making, but the suppression by the Mayor and Council of fireworks, bombs and torpedoes.

For probably the first time since Dalton appeared on the map, it was impossible to find any brand of fireworks within the city limits; the reason for this being the high license put on that commodity, making any profit to the merchants impossible. But to Macon and Savannah belongs the palm. On Christmas Eve twelve thousand Macon children formed in squads and battalions and marched to the City Hall. When within a block of the hall, a signal was given, and they approached at one and the same time, singing the Christmas Carol. As they emerged the chimes of St. John's church rang for two minutes.

In Savannah, the rancus glare of tin trumpets and the wail of instruments of agony which have silenced Trinity chimes, and made the ringing of those celebrated bells impossible, gave way this year to Anthems, Carols and patriotic songs, sung by hundreds of trained voices.

May this beautiful and appropriate celebration extend to every city and town in this great old State.

REPORT OF CHILDREN OF THE REPUBLIC COMMITTEE.

Your chairman on Children of the Republic reports that in Savannah there are eight Boys' Clubs and six Girls' Clubs, and the Jewish women conducting their own clubs for Jewish boys and girls.

It has been found best to have a small membership of 16 to each club, ages being 9 to 11, 11 to 14, 14 to 16, and 16 to 18 years. They elect their own officers, conduct their own business meetings, and select their own names for their clubs, such as Tomochichi; and, on Washington's Birthday, a new club was formed—the Liberty Boys of 1913.

The meetings are held once a week, lasting one hour and a half. Program, business meeting, games and stories. The object of the club is to strengthen and promote wholesome relation among the boys; to interest them in healthy channels; to have respect for the rights of others; love and honor the country.

Such books as "Guides to the United States of Immigrant Children," by John Foster Carr; "Games for Playgrounds," by Jessie Bancroft, are recommended.

REPORT OF AMERICAN MONTHLY MAGAZINE COMMITTEE.

Mrs. John A. Perdue, Chairman.

When asked by our State Regent to take the chairmanship of the Committee for The American Monthly Magazine, I accepted, thinking the work would be light and the return very large.

State-wide work being new to me and conducting same by letter made me realize my mistake, and that systematic, regular and never ceasing work was necessary to have Georgia lead or even stand in the percentage of subscription as outlined by the National Committee. My first effort was a circular letter to the forty-seven Regents, requesting the appointment in their Chapter of the very best member as agent to personally canvass their membership for subscriptions for the American Monthly. I received only seven replies.

Later on postal cards to those who failed to answer were sent, asking their immediate action on circular letter. To this I received at a very late date five favorable replies. In December and January, I sent personal letters to those whom I believed would be interested in the need of circulating the Magazine, and only one was sufficiently impressed as to let me hear from her.

However, with twelve good agents, we report one hundred and eighty new subscriptions with thirty renewals.

Only through reading the American Monthly is it possible for us to know of the great work of Chapters throughout the United States, and some Chapters in Georgia should have a report in each edition.

Only through the American Monthly can we know of the expenditure by the National Board of the ninety thousand dollars dues, of one dollar from each member.

Only through the American Monthly can we read the reports of our President General, and official officers, which gives us a clearer and better understanding of our work.

Only through the American Monthly is it possible for us to "know our relationship which was bought by blood—the price of liberty."

Only through the American Monthly can we find accounts of State Conferences, and I sincerely trust a full report of our Sixteenth Georgia Conference, now in session, will be sent in for publication.

Only through the American Monthly can we find each month a Genealogical Department, and the privilege is ours to send queries and replies, which will be given through the Magazine.

In the February Number is a very nice account with a fine picture of the Chehaw Monument, unveiled by the Council of Safety, Americus, Ga.

My only plea to this patriotic body of women is subscribe now, each one of you, for the American Monthly, that you may grow and develop along all lines of work pertaining to the lives of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

With bowed heads we mourn the loss of many Daughters during the past year. They have passed into the sleep which knows no waking; "passed to the Great Beyond in God's appointed time."

With loving sympathy we, your Committee on Memorials, beg leave to submit the following report:

The Atlanta Chapter reports the loss of two of its valued members, Mrs. Sallie Eckford, September 14, 1912, and Mrs. Clara E. Mailard, September 23, 1912. Floral offerings were sent both, and notes of sympathy were sent to the bereaved families.

Death has claimed five members of the Joseph Habersham Chapter, two being Real Daughters, who did not reside in the State, and their deaths occurred sometime ago, but were only recently reported. They were Mrs. Jane A. Glass, December 10, 1902, and Mrs. Mary C. Griffin, August 24, 1902. The other deaths were Mrs. Elizabeth Nolan Dallis (Mrs. Park A.) May 26, 1912, and Mrs. Djaltha Lee Carrol Priolien (Mrs. Samuel), September 24, 1912. Floral offerings were sent each, and committees from the Chapter attended the funerals, and letters of sympathy were also sent relatives.

The Oglethorpe Chapter, of Columbus, feel the irreparable loss of one of its most valuable members, Mrs. Sarah Porter Huellen, September 19, 1912. The Chapter attended the services in a body, also sent handsome design of flowers.

The Elijah Clarke Chapter, as well as the whole state has sustained a severe loss in the sudden death of the much beloved Mrs. Harry C. White, of Athens. She had labored so faithfully in every good cause, and was so well known throughout the State, that she will be greatly missed. "Her life was luminous with the goodness and the grace that makes true womanhood a guiding and healing power in the world. Gifted with the finest intuition and with liberal culture, she gave herself freely to her generation and left a memory that will linger as a fragrant influence and benediction."

The Xavier Chapter, of Rome, Ga., lost one member, Mrs. Louisa M. Haynes, October 31, 1912. She is greatly missed.

The Sarah Dickinson Chapter reports the death of one of their beloved members, Mrs. Rebecca B. Hunter, November 26, 1912, and the Button Gwinnett Chapter, of Columbus, regrets the loss of one of their valued members, Mrs. Thomas J. Chappell, April 9, 1912.

The Elijah Clarke Chapter also reports the death of Mrs. Mary Monteith. She will be greatly missed from their number.

Mrs. Cortland Symmes, a prominent member and former Regent of the Brunswick Chapter, died March 19, 1913. She was much beloved by her Chapter and will be deeply mourned.

The Gov. Treutlen Chapter, of Fort Valley, has notified me of the death of one of their most enthusiastic and most beloved members, Mrs. Annie C. W. Harris, Chapter Regent and State chairman, November 24, 1912. The Chapter attended the services in a body, and sent handsome floral tribute, as did the Marshallville and Montezuma Chapters, where she was also greatly loved.

The Pulaski Chapter feels deeply the loss of Mrs. Susan S. Boynton, November 27, 1912, and the Johnathan Bryan regrets the death of Mrs. Sarah S. Tedford, December 18, 1912, while the Augusta Chapter deeply deplores the death of Mrs. Martha Sanford Gardner, January 18, 1913.

"Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Respectfully submitted,

RESOLUTION OF THANKS.

Seldom has it been possible for the Georgia State Conference, Daughters of the American Revolution, to be so delightfully entertained, as it has been in this quaint city so peculiarly adapted for such a gathering.

The reputation of Augusta for lavish hospitality and brilliant oratory has more than been sustained, and the city has won the heart of every Daughter attending this Conference, and we would herewith offer a resolution of thanks to each and every one who has so graciously assisted in our entertainment.

The cordial welcome of Mrs. Charles Phinizy, in behalf of the Augusta Chapter, the invocation of Rev. Howard Cree, and the brilliant address of welcome from Major J. C. C. Black, for the City of Augusta, and the response to the address of welcome, so graciously delivered by Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, will remain forever with these Daughters of the American Revolution, and cause them to ever regard with pleasure, their stay in your midst.

We also greatly appreciate the splendid report of our beloved State Regent, Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster, and wish to thank her for her magnificent work. She has presided with dignity and grace, and we are proud of her as our State Regent, and delight in honoring her.

We also thank our Vice President General, Mrs. Wm. Lawson Peel, for her splendid work, and earnest comprehensive report. She has long been one of our most faithful and most brilliant Daughters of Georgia.

The delightful music rendered during the convention was greatly enjoyed and added much to the entertainment of the conference. We thank the Daughters of the Confederacy for their delightful luncheon, so beautifully served by the officers of the Robert E. Lee Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, and also thank the Augusta Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, for their charming luncheon. It is appropriate that these two splendid bodies of women work so harmoniously together for the good of both.

The brilliant reception, tendered the Daughters of the American Revolution at the handsome Country Club, by Mrs. Charles Phinizy, Regent of Augusta Chapter, and Mrs. Joseph B. Cumming, Honorary Regent of Chapter, was most charming and greatly enjoyed.

The Reception at Meadow Garden was most delightful, and many enjoyed seeing for the first time, the home of George Walton, one of the Georgia signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the many relics that have been presented to Meadow Garden.

The gift to Meadow Garden of a portrait of Gov. John Adam Treutlen, by his great-granddaughter, Miss Mary Cleckley, was most appropriate and highly appreciated, the presentation address being most charmingly made by Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan.

Col. W. A. Henderson delivered a historical address of value and interest to all students.

The gem of the Convention was Miss Mildred Rutherford's charming address on "Monumental Educational Work the Women of Georgia are Doing." There is scarce need to praise "Miss Millie," for "to know her, is to love her," and it was delightful to have her with us.

Thanks are offered to the Philomathic Club for their beautiful rest rooms that proved to be of such inestimable use and service to the members of the Conference; and, also, to the Rev. Dr. Ashby Jones and Rev. M. M. MacFerrin, for assisting in opening the services by their beautiful prayers.

The Pages—Misses Anna Baker Lamar, Sada Lamar, Laura Tobin, Isaetta Phinzy, Catherine Heard, Nannette Willis, Marguerite Pressley, Mary Lou Phinzy, Marion Fleming, Arrington Butt, Grace Dugas, Leila Hankinson, we are greatly indebted to these lovely young pages, who have so graciously and faithfully assisted during this conference and we wish to return thanks to each individually.

We also return thanks to the press for their many courtesies, and will reluctantly acknowledge that "the pen is mightier than the sword," though we Daughters of the Revolution are here to celebrate the deeds of the heroes of 1776, who, with sword, won the freedom of America.

It is impossible to do justice in this short space to the many attentions and courtesies shown us, but the memory of Augusta, and her famous sand hills will ever linger with us. Therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread upon the Minutes of this Conference, and a copy be given to the press of Augusta, and be included in the published reports of this Conference.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. JAMES S. WOOD, Chairman.

LANAHASSEE CHAPTER, BUENA VISTA.

Mrs. E. B. Clements, Regent.

The Lanahassee Chapter was organized February 1st, 1913. We appreciate very much the assistance rendered by the State Regent. Mrs. S. W. Foster, in the work or organization.

We have one Revolutionary soldier's grave to be marked and hope to find others. We are also planning to present a flag to public schools in the near future.

While we have just begun work, and are scarcely more than organized, we have very bright prospects for a flourishing Chapter.

REPORT MAJOR-GENERAL SAMUEL ELBERT CHAPTER, D. A. R. TENNILLE, GA.

Mrs. Herbert M. Franklin, Regent.

The Major-General Samuel Elbert Chapter "discovered America" on March 14, 1913, and, although an infant of tender days, is already beginning to "sit up and take notice." Our twelve members make up in enthusiasm for lack of numbers; in other words, "we are little, but we are loud."

We chose the name of a man who rose to the highest military rank in our State during the Revolution, Major-General Samuel Elbert, afterwards Governor of Georgia.

The first two meetings of the Chapter were held at "The Colonades" home of the Regent, who was ably assisted in organization of the Chapter by her mother, Mrs. Loula Kendall Rogers. Interesting relics of the Revolution were exhibited by Mrs. Rogers, a book of Army Regulations of the Revolution published in 1779, old histories of that period, and refreshments were served on Revolutionary china and silver, inherited from the Lanes, of North Carolina, founders of Raleigh.

The Chapter will have history study at each meeting, patriotic music, and a Year Book has been planned. A civic Improvement Committee was appointed and began active work to plant flowers and beautify the City Park. A committee has been appointed to visit Tennille Institute, and the Chapter will co-operate with the city authorities in work for an annex to the building.

There are a number of applications for membership, and the Chapter, upon organization, had invitations for meetings three months ahead.

We hope by the next annual conference to be such a precocious youngster that we can reach out and be of material assistance to the State organization.

BUTTON GWINNETT CHAPTER, COLUMBUS. GA.

Miss Mary Lewis Redd, Regent.

We have held eight regular meetings during the year, the first part of the evening being devoted to routine business and the latter part to a literary programme. Our study for the past year has been "The Pioneer Mothers of America," which we have found very profitable and pleasant. We open our meetings by using the D. A. R. Ritual; we also use the State programme, and have had two very interesting stories as requested by the State Regent.

Our principal work is keeping a Scholarship at the Columbus Industrial High School for the use of a girl from local Orphan Home. We have one life member.

Georgia Day was observed in connection with the February meeting. On February 22nd, the Chapter was entertained at the home of the Regent, with a Washington party.

We have met all obligations for the year, and have contributed to the Berry School, and the Park Memorial.

Death has invaded our Chapter since our last meeting, when we lost one of our best and brightest members, Mrs. Lula Scott Chapell.

PIEDMONT CONTINENTAL CHAPTER, ATLANTA.

Mrs. Richard P. Brooks, Regent.

Another twelve months have quickly passed, and again the Piedmont Continental Chapter brings love and loyal greetings to our beloved State Regent, officers and members, at this, the Fifteenth Conference.

During this time the Piedmont Chapter has experienced a year of pleasant activity, and we have labored together to a glorious achievement, shedding the sunshine of harmony as we passed along. The Chapter is growing both in numbers and in strength, twenty names being accepted in the December meeting. We are also growing along patriotic and educational lines. The Chapter at present is educating two mountain girls; one being placed in the Tallulah Falls School, and one at Blairsville Collegiate Institute for Mountain Boys and Girls. The Piedmont Chapter has the honor of having two State officers, Second Vice State Regent and State Historian.

We are taking great pride in our Year Book for 1913, which is not only attractive, but contains instructive and interesting programs on the study of Georgia History. These programs are carried out at each meeting by having original papers read. We also keep in touch at Chapter meetings with D. A. R. current events, which prove of much interest, and a means of increasing knowledge to the members. The Chapter has participated in the usual celebrations on the days set apart to observe. On June 4th, we did not lose sight of Flag Day, which was observed in a specially charming manner; the Chapter being the guest on this occasion, of Miss Ida Schane, one of our enthusiastic members.

As a part of this entertaining program, an interesting paper on the "Birth of the Flag," was read by Mrs. S. M. Dean. On November the 26th, in commemoration of the fifteenth anniversary of the Piedmont Continental Chapter, it was my great pleasure to be hostess at a reception, which was given as an expression of my love and appreciation for the loyal support and co-operation given me, during my past year as Regent. It was also my great pleasure on this occasion, to have as my honor guests, the State Officers, whose presence added much to the success of the evening's entertainment.

On February the 12th, the Piedmont Chapter gave a volume, "Stories of Georgia," by Harris, to the George Adair School in Atlanta. This book, which was the first to be placed in this school library, was presented by the Regent, with a talk on "Georgia Day."

On February 22nd, the Chapter celebrated Washington's Birthday, in the nature of a Silver Tea, at the home of our Recording Secretary, Mrs. Eugene T. Booth. This happy occasion proved both a financial and social success.

I am glad to report that three Revolutionary soldiers' graves have been located in Monroe County, not many miles from my home town, Forsyth. The names of these Revolutionary soldiers are, Benjamin Haygood, Anderson Redding and William Ogletree. Markers, which have been ordered by the Piedmont Chapter for these unmarked graves, will be placed in the near future. I wish, also, to report another Revolutionary soldier's grave, that of James Comer, who is buried about five miles west of Clinton, Jones County. This grave has been marked by his family, with age 108 years, with his politics on his monument, which is rather unusual in marking a grave.

The Chapter is now doing historic research work preparatory to marking an historic spot. We are contributing annually, lineage books, placed on the Chapter's shelf in Carnegie Library, and have contributed the following since last report, April, 1912:

To State Treasury for Goodwill Christmas.....	$ 3 00
To Continental Hall and Penny-a-Day Fund.....	37 85
To Emily Park Memorial, Hon. Lucian Lamar Knight, presents through the Piedmont Chapter Autograph copies of his latest work in two volumes, "Georgia's Landmarks, Memo- rials and Legends.....	7 00
To Gift Scholarship, Tallulah Falls School.....	50 90
To Gift Scholarship, Blairsville Institute.....	25 00
To Meadow Garden.....	2 00
To Gift Book to George Adair School.....	1 00

STONE CASTLE CHAPTER, DAWSON.

Mrs. J. S. Lowrey, Regent.

Stone Castle Chapter is happy to report another year of progress along patriotic lines, with ever increasing interest, and zeal, on the part of the members. After the summer vacation our coming together was marked by another book-shower, which added a number of splendid volumes to our already valuable collection. A handsome mahogany book case was the generous gift of two of our most valued members. Our activities the past year have been varied, and while considerable work of a local nature has claimed our attention, we are gratified to have a small part in many of the great movements of the National Society.

The deepest interest has been manifested in the study of "Pioneer Mothers of America;" our attractive Year Book providing well arranged programs for each month; patriotic music and readings fitting in well with papers on Colonial Motherhood and home-making in the wilderness in all its interesting phases.

"Flag Day" was a notable occasion, the State Regent being our honor guest, and both Chapters uniting in celebration of the day. Stone Castle Chapter proudly waved its own beautiful silk flag, presented by our Regent as a souvenir of her trip to the Congress at Washington.

We united with the schools in observing "Georgia Day" and Washington's Birthday, our wide awake school teachers arranging delightful exercises. That the children may become more familiar with the flag, its use and meaning, the flag code has been placed in all school books by our Chapter. An Oleograph of the origin and history of the flag; also, a fac-simile of the original engrossed manuscript of the Declaration of Independence, has been neatly framed and hung in our public library.

By unanimous vote we again carry a Scholarship in the Martha Berry School. Five dollars in gold has been offered the Third District Agricultural College to the pupil making the highest average in American history.

Donations have been made to the Mary Hammond Bust, Desha Memorial, Continental Hall and Meadow Garden. We have eight subscribers to the American Monthly, one copy being kept in our public Library.

The issuing of a "Colonial Cook Book" has proven a splendid source of revenue, as well as a far-reaching advertisement of our Chapter work.

An accumulation of historic data relating to our ancestors will fill a record book to be placed in our archives. Our membership numbers thirty-eight—an increase of twelve since last report. Perhaps the most important of all the things accomplished during the past few months was the marking of the site of the Echownochaway battle ground, a few miles from Dawson. Surely our lucky star was overhead in all the planning of this interesting occasion.

The beautiful marble boulder was the gift of the Tate Marble Company, and, in placing it, we were put under lasting obligations for the hearty co-operation of the County officials, the generosity of individuals, and the enthusiastic interest of the public generally, all of which made our patriotic efforts a joy. Several distinguished visitors were Chapter guests. Hon. Pleasant A. Stovall, of Savannah, the orator of the occasion, charmed all by his masterful review of this thrilling period of our country's history. A basket dinner and the mingling of the people of the different counties under such happy circumstances, was an uplift, and of deep and abiding good to the community.

At the request of Hon. Lucian L. Knight, an account of the unveiling exercises was furnished for his forthcoming book, "Georgia's Landmarks, Memorials and Legends." A huge granite boulder, the gift of Broad River Granite Corporation, has been received and as soon as possible will be placed with appropriate exercises to mark the trail of Andrew Jackson.

Nothing of greater interest and pleasure has ever occurred than the beautiful celebration of our second birthday anniversary this month. A large white cake wreathed in blue and white flowers and further adorned with two burning candles, made it a really truly birthday party. An Easter egg hunt of large proportions, in a beautiful grove in the city, furnished genuine pleasure for the children and added to the Chapter funds.

With a "fragrant retrospection" of the work of the past two years, we pledge anew our faith and allegiance to the principles, which is the mission of the Daughters of the American Revolution to keep alive.

To the perfect harmony that has characterized our every undertaking, is due to the splendid results achieved by our Chapter, and in this spirit we go forth to conquer, radiant with hope and inspired by larger visions of the needs and the possibilities of our great country.

DOROTHY WALTON CHAPTER, DAWSON.

Mrs. W. A. McLain, Regent.

Our Chapter is sixteen months old. We have an enrollment of thirty-one members, with several applications now in Washington.

Our first work of the year was our Chapter Year Book. We have had regular monthly meetings following the progress outlined in our Year Book. We have found the historical queries compiled by Mrs. Redding most helpful. We have twelve subscribers to the American Monthly.

A gold medal was offered in our public school to stimulate the study of American History. The Chapter observed Patriotic Days in connection with our public school.

To Young Harris School, we gave a Scholarship of $90, to an orphan girl; to Montmelville School of Photography, we gave a Scholarship of $100; a Georgia girl and former resident of our town, had the benefit of the latter scholarship; we have expended a neat sum for our Chapter Library; $5.00 was given Memorial Continental Hall; $5.00 given Meadow Garden; $1.00 given Emily Hendree Park Memorial; the report of our treasurer shows all dues and obligations paid.

We have occasionally contributed articles to the patriotic page of The Atlanta Constitution.

Our greatest work for the year ensuing, will be the marking of an historic site in our County, which is definitely located and the deeds presented to the Chapter.

XAVIER CHAPTER, ROME.

Mrs. Will Chidsey, Regent.

Xavier Chapter has enrolled forty-seven members, all of whom have paid dues for the year, 1912. All dues for 1913 have been collected in advance.

Our meetings are held on the 11th of each month at the homes of the different members. After the regular program, a social hour follows, thus combining business and pleasure. The meetings are well attended and much interest is shown in the work of the Chapter. Several Lineage Books have been added to the collection, being bound and placed at Carnegie Library. We subscribe for the American Monthly Magazine, which is also placed at the Library for the use of the Chapter.

During Christmas, baskets containing food and confections, were distributed among several poor families, and Xaxier Chapter started a fund for a Christmas tree for the colored orphanage.

Mrs. J. A. Rounsaville has offered, through the Chapter, a medal to the pupils of the Grammar School, for the best essay on "The South's Part in the American Revolution." The judges to be chosen from the members of the Chapter.

Georgia Day was observed with an appropriate program, and on Washington's Birthday a colonial tea was given, which proved quite a success both financially and socially.

We have sent in for approval four storiottes for the Revolutionary Reader.

Through the influence of our enthusiastic Vice Regent, Mrs. Henry, $25.00 was donated to the Berry School by the Ann Arbor Chapter, Michigan.

We are making plans to continue our usual Scholarship to the Berry School, which is given each year as a memorial to our deceased members. We contributed $5.00 to the relief fund being raised for the survivors of the terrific storm which recently swept our vicinity.

There is much enthusiasm among the members and we are making plans whereby we hope to accomplish a great deal within the next few months.

ARCHIBALD BULLOCK CHAPTER, MONTEZUMA.

Mrs. W. H. McKenzie, Regent.

The Archibald Bullock Chapter has had a very successful year, eclipsing any in the history of the Chapter. The regular monthly meetings have been well attended, and the Chapter beautifully entertained in the different homes.

A most enjoyable occasion was the visit from our beloved State Regent, in November, from which the Chapter gained great inspiration, as well as pleasure. Two beautiful receptions were tendered Mrs. Foster while with us.

In addition to this, the Chapter has accomplished some splendid work. We have succeeded in locating a Revolutionary grave, which we purpose to mark as soon as we are able to confer with the Government for a marker, but the high water has detained us.

We also have presented the school with five handsomely framed Patriotic pictures, which we find serve as a great incentive to the pupils.

Georgia Day we did not observe, on account of just having celebrated the Chapter's fourth birthday.

We now have seventeen members and several papers pending. One new member. Have transferred one member, Miss Mamie Lewis, to the Macon Chapter. We have responded liberally during the past year to the various interest fostered by the D. A. R.'s.

The year's work has been full of interest, and each member feels encouraged to enter into further efforts and plans that we heartily hope to see materialized.

FIELDING LEWIS CHAPTER, MARIETTA.

Miss Mabel C. Cortelyou, Regent.

After entertaining the Fourteenth State Conference last year, we had the pleasure, a little later, of playing the role of hostess a second time. During the State Confederate Veterans Reunion a beautiful al-fresco luncheon in honor of the division commanders and sponsors was given by the Fielding Lewis Chapter at the home of Mrs. John M. Graham. This was a most enjoyable social feature of the reunion.

In the Fall of 1908, we gave our first Fielding Lewis Scholarship to the Berry School, being the first Chapter in the State to take an individual Scholarship. It has been given each year since, and the beneficiary of this year's $53.00 is a girl we know, who is making a good record. A donation of $8.00 was made to the Memorial Continental Hall.

We planned to offer a prize to the High School pupils for the best answers to questions on Georgia History for February 12th. We have given this prize for two years, but this time the Superintendent decided that the pupils could not undertake any extra work. The Chapter voted at the March meeting to offer next year a medal to the seventh grade pupil making the best standing in history.

We have contributed one storiette in response to the State Regent's request. Our subject was "The Indian Treaty Tree," which stands in the yard of Mrs. H. G. Cole, in Marietta, and we sent with the storiette a photograph of the magnificent oak in its prime.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated by a delightful meeting with Mrs. Graham; each member inviting a friend as her guest.

Our meetings are held the fifteenth of each month, and we follow the program printed in our attractive Year Book. Fielding Lewis has a membership of 41, with twelve non-resident members.

SERGEANT JASPER CHAPTER, MONTICELLO.

Miss Maud C. Penn, Regent.

Sergeant Jasper Chapter is pleased to report a slight increase in membership with several prospective additions soon. Monthly meetings have been held at the home of members and the programs for these meetings have been arranged by committees appointed by the Regent for each month. These committees have builded their programs on some historic event in the month, whenever practical, and the studies so kindly sent us by Mrs. Redding, of Waycross, have been a great help. On each occasion we have thoroughly enjoyed the delightful hospitality dispensed by the hostess and the instructive program rendered. "The Song of the Revolution," and other patriotic airs are frequently sung.

Our regular meetings are held on the third Tuesday in each month, from October to June inclusive, but, believing in "the eternal fitness of things," a recent change in our By-laws provides that, in those months in which patriotic anniversaries occur, the meeting may be held instead on that date, if due notice of the change is given. We hope to hold our first Fall meeting on "Columbus Day."

"Georgia Day" was most appropriately observed by the Chapter and also in the public schools of our town. The celebration on Washington's Birthday, which is also the anniversary of our organization, which had been planned at the home of the Regent, and which our State Regent had graciously consented to honor with her presence, was called off on account of the critical illness of the "Real Daughter" of our Chapter, who is also a grand-aunt of the Regent.

For the first time since our organization, the Death Angel has visited our Chapter, taking from us our "Real Daughter," Mrs. Martha Penn Rodgers, whom it was our delight to honor, and whose departure was filled our hearts with inexpressible sadness. Our floral offering on this sorrowful occasion was a large pillow of white flowers with the words, "Real Daughter," in blue, the same shade as the color of our society.

Since our last report we have located another Revolutionary soldier's grave in our County, that of Elijah Cornwell, unmarked.

We have purchased from a needy widow of our town several volumes of Revolutionary history, which it will be our pleasure to present to the Library of Meadow Garden.

Our State Regent's appeal for a Peaceful and Good Will Christmas, was heartily endorsed, and personal efforts were pledged to make it a season of peace and good will.

Just now we are greatly interested in the preservation of an old spring which is identified with the early history of our town, and which we feel should be suitably marked. A Chapter House is also being discussed with enthusiasm.

HANNAH CLARKE CHAPTER, QUITMAN.

Mrs. J. R. Davis, Regent.

The Hannah Clarke Chapter shows enrollment of thirty-eight names, with eight on application list. We hold regular monthly meetings, at the homes of the members following the programs outlined in the Chapter Year Book.

The work accomplished during the past year has been most satisfactory, as it shows interest and progress along every line.

Through our Committee on Patriotic Education we have interested ourselves in the educational work of our town. A medal is offered each year for the best essay on a Revolutionary subject, and all of our patriotic anniversaries have been appropriately observed.

The Civic League Committee continues their effort in behalf of civic and sanitary improvements of our town. The committee is very busy this month planning for the Spring "Clean Up" of the city.

The Committee on Historical Research is collecting much interesting and valuable material.

Our Finance Committee has been eminently successful in the various methods adopted for raising funds. An entertainment, in which local talent is used, will be given this month, which we trust will add a substantial sum to our treasury.

We feel that we have made a creditable record in contributing to the various calls made upon us by the National organization.

A full Scholarship is maintained at Miss Berry's School, amounting to $50.00.

We derived much benefit from the knowledge gained by our delegates to both the State Conference and the National Convention.

SARAH DICKINSON CHAPTER, NEWMAN.

Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Regent.

Our Chapter has been at almost a standstill during the D. A. R. year just passed, in numbers, having gained one and transferred one. Several papers are pending.

Two days after Thanksgiving, our Vice Regent and the sister of our Regent, went to the beyond. Mrs. Hunter was one of the dear women, whose "price was above rubies," and who "stretched out her hand to the needy." Our Chapter appointed a committee to write a tribute to her worth, a lament that our Chapter and the community had lost so much.

We have four markers for Revolutionary soldiers so long slumbering in obscure graves. Two of these have been placed and the other two are awaiting the convenience of the posterity of these humble heroes, to be set with such ceremony as they deem fit.

The Cole Company, of our town, gave to our Chapter a handsome granite boulder to be set in memory of the Indian Chief, Wm. McIntosh. The Sarah Dickinson Chapter is herewith sending to the Fifteenth Annual Conference of the Georgia D. A. R., a map of the McIntosh Trail from Senoia, Ga., to Talladega, Ala. The trail over which McIntosh and his allies guided Jackson and his troops in the war of 1812-13-14-15.

LACHLAN MCINTOSH CHAPTER, SAVANNAH.

Miss Margaret Cosens, Regent.

The Lachlan McIntosh Chapter, D. A. R., now has 40 members enrolled, an increase of 12 in the past year, and 14 members preparing papers, whom we hope to have with us very soon.

We have contributed $50.00 to Miss Berry's School; $5.00 to Emily Park Memorial; $2.00 Meadow Garden; and several members answering Mrs. DeVoe's letters, asking for a Penny-a-Day for the Block Certificates, $12.00; and the Chapter is now considering erecting a monument to Mary Musgrove, the Indian Princess, who took such an active part in the early settlement of Georgia.

Our meetings on or near the 15th of each month have been well attended, much interest being taken by the Chapter, and several very instructive papers read, especially one on the life of Gen. Lachlan McIntosh, by Mrs. Spalding, who is now our Registrar. Our last meeting fell on Georgia Day, at the home of the Regent, and after the meeting adjourned we were most delightfully entertained by our Regent, and Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, the honorary member of our Chapter, as we gathered around the table, resplendent with cut-glass and silver relics of Colonial times; and so, in keeping with the day, Mrs. Morgan gave a toast to Gen. Oglethorpe, Gen. McIntosh and Georgia, which were gracefully responded to by Mrs. Spaulding and enjoyed by all.

WM. MARSH CHAPTER, LA FAYETTE.

Mrs. J. F. Wardlaw, Regent.

We are nearing our second mile post, April 12, will be our anniversary. We are glad to report the past year as one of pleasant and active work. Financially as well as socially, our year has been successful.

The Chapter meetings have been occupied with historical studies, interspersed with patriotic songs. We have had fourteen meetings, nine regular meetings, and five called meetings.

We have at present twenty-nine members, have acquired five since our last report, one by transfer, and several applications are pending.

It was a beautiful thought of our Regent, Mrs. J. F. Wardlaw, to present to the Chapter on April 12, 1911, our first anniversary, a gavel, made from wood taken from the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson.

The Silver plate bore the inscription "William Marsh Chapter, D. A. R., 1912." This especially appropriate gift is highly prized by our Chapter.

Georgia Day and Washington's Birthday were observed, the Chapter co-operating with the school in carrying out splendid programs. We presented the High School with a picture of Washington.

On Memorial Day, April 26th., the D. A. R. and U. D. C.'s edited a Memorial paper, from which our Chapter realized $45.00. As so many of our members are also Daughters of the Confederacy, we are on double duty.

During our County Fair we gave an old fashioned dinner, on which cleared $75.00.

We have collected from dues and donations.

We continue to labor most earnestly for the erection of our Rest Room and Chapter House. Our Treasurer has to our credit in the bank for this purpose $125.00, and we have $25.00 pledged.

We hope to erect in the coming years a handsome and lasting memorial, that will be an honor to the Daughters of the American Revolution, and will prove a benefaction to our town and County.

We take great interest in the many calls that are made upon us, regret we cannot respond more liberally, but have our hearts set on the erection of a Rest Room and Chapter House.

We have contributed to the Emily Park Memorial.

We have ten subscribers to the American Monthly Magazine, which keeps us in touch with the National affairs of our Chapter.

Mrs. John W. Bale, our Chairman on Revolutionary Graves, has obtained the official record of the services of William Fariss, who is buried in our County. We have made application to the Government for a marker, and hope to mark the grave early in the year, and at that time hold appropriate exercises.

Believing the most noble and patriotic work which can be done is helping elevate the lives and aspirations of those who are unable to help themselves, we have again this year given a Scholarship to our orphan girl in the Martha Berry School. "What have done for others?—For he alone loves God and his Country who loves and serves his fellowmen."

As we gain knowledge, and as our interest in the work deepens, the prospects for the future brightens, and our Chapter becomes more enthusiastic as we realize we are assisting in the accomplishment of a part of the great work done by the D. A. R.

STEPHEN HEARD CHAPTER, ELBERTON.

Mrs. A. S. Hawes, Regent.

Our year has been very successful, as we have been able to meet our obligations promptly. For education we contributed $5.00 to Miss Berry's School. During the year we have liberally responded to the various calls made on our treasury.

Two members have been added to the Chapter.

A memorial to Nancy Hart will be erected when a suitable site is located. The Milledgeville Chapter will share this patriotic work. Mrs. Redding's programs have been very interesting. We wish to express our gratitude to her.

We wish for the Convention a profitable meeting, and each Chapter a successful year.

SHADRACH INMAN CHAPTER, HEPHZIBAH.

Mrs. Virginia Inman Davis, Regent.

We send greetings and good wishes for a prosperous and harmonious year. Our enrollment shows a membership of sixteen, and we have added two names to our number.

In honor of "Georgia Day," the Chapter again offered a prize in the Hephzibah High School for the best essay on distinguished Georgians. There were twelve contestants, the papers were all good. The prize, a book, was won by a young man of the senior class.

We have sent during the year $10.00 for the Berry school; $3.65 for Continental Hall, Washington, D. C., $1.00; for Meadow Garden, $1.00; for Rabun Gap School, and paid $1.50 for prize for "Georgia Day." We take the American Monthly Magazine. The markers for graves of the six Revolutionary soldiers reported last year, have not yet been received.

NATHANIEL MACON CHAPTER, MACON.

Mrs. T. C. Parker, Regent.

The Nathaniel Macon Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Macon, Georgia, have to report the publication of their first Year Book.

Our monthly program consists of a series of lectures on topics from our country's history in Revolutionary times and the gentlemen who so kindly agreed to deliver these lectures are Dr. E. C. Dargan, Prof. K. T. Alfriend, Dr. R. E. Douglas, Judge Emory Speer, Prof. C. B. Chapman and Col. Claud Estes. Music is always included and very light refreshments.

Our June meeting is known as Regent's day and has no set program. On this day the Seventh Grade at Vineville school, all teachers of the school, several prominent citizens, and, we trust, our sister Chapter, the Mary Hammond Washington, will meet with our Chapter when the medal heretofore awarded on Washington's Birthday for best essay on some Revolutionary subject, will at this date be awarded to the successful contestant for the best and most interesting story written by a child for children. ..

The money for our two historic markers is in the bank, and we hope to make a gala day of these ceremonies when possibly the majority of the Daughters present may unite with us in memorializing these spots of interest in our country's history.

GOV. EDWARD TELFAIR CHAPTER, THOMASTON.

Mrs. L. B. Matthews, Regent.

The Gov. Edward Telfair Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution located at Thomaston, Ga., submit this as its annual report for the year, 1912. We have held our meetings regularly every first Tuesday in the month, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. L. B. Matthews. Attendance good each month. We are as yet a small Chapter, but much interest is felt by each member.

We feel that we have accomplished some good to date, and hope to do more in the future.

We paid music tuition to a very bright little pupil of R. E. Lee Institute during the spring term of last year, and this term we have taken up the literary education of this same pupil, and hope to graduate her through this institution.

Under the head of civic work we have contributed a hedge to beautify the school grounds.

On patriotic lines we observed "Flag Day" with appropriate exercises, a few friends being invited. On "Independence Day" (July 4th), we held an elaborate reception at the handsome home of the Regent, about 150 enjoyed the hospitality of the Chapter. We served dinner to "court" attendants during the second week in November, realizing twenty-five dollars, which we expect to use for educational purposes. We have contributed $2.00 to the Martha Berry school at Rome, and $2.00 to the Continental Hall, Washington.

We have in view a Revolutionary soldier's grave in an adjoining county, but haven't sufficient proof as yet to mark it. We are to take up the study of the Revolutionary war, its causes and its participants, at an early date.

SAVANNAH CHAPTER, SAVANNAH.

Mrs. J. S. Wood, Regent.

The year has been one full of interest and good results. We have met regularly, on or near the 15th of each month, and had one called meeting.

We contributed a $50.00 Scholarship to the Martha Berry School; sent $5.00 to Meadow Garden as we have done each year since its establishment, and seven members have ordered Block Certificate for the benefit of Continental Memorial Hall.

Most of our energy, however, has been spent in gathering funds for the Memorial Arch, which our Chapter is to place at the entrance of Colonial Cemetery in Savannah. We are to have this beautiful Memorial completed during the summer and will probably unveil in the early fall, when we hope to have you all with us.

The arch is to be of granite, surmounted by an American eagle in bronze, is to be massive size and in every way in keeping with the purpose for which it is erected. It will have the D. A. R. Emblem embellished near the center, and on one side will be inscribed, "In memory of the soldiers and sailors who fought in the War of the Revolution, 1776-1781, and who rest in Colonial Cemetery." On the opposite side will be, "Erected by the Savannah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1913."

Our Chapter has enjoyed several successful entertainments during the year, and will have a large bridge party on April 4th. The members have taken great interest in these entertainments, as well as in the regular meetings, much to the gratification of the officers of the Chapter.

We appreciate having as one of our active members, an Honorary State Regent, Mrs. Wm. Washington Gordon, a charter member of the Chapter, and who takes great interest in our work. We regret that she is not with us at this Augusta Conference as she was twelve years ago.

We have continued to grow and now number 63, having just transferred one to Elijah Clarke Chapter.

Several members are hunting up historical sketches for the State Reader, to be compiled by our efficient State Regent, and we hope to have them very soon.

We wish to thank Mrs. Foster, State Regent, for the beautiful picture of Continental Hall. It was such an appropriate gift, and especially enjoyed and appreciated by those who have not seen our Washington home.

MARY HAMMOND WASHINGTON CHAPTER, MACON.

Mrs. C. C. Holt, Regent.

The Mary Hammond Washington Chapter wishes to report a prosperous year with increasing interest in the work. Through the influence of Miss Carrie Patterson, who brought the matter before the Board of Public Education, Georgia Day was celebrated with appropriate exercises by the school children.

During the United Confederate Veterans' Reunion, held in our city last May, the Mary Hammond Washington Chapter, together with the Nathaniel Macon Chapter, gave a beautiful luncheon to the Southern Memorial Association. Our State Regent visited the Chapter on November 19th, 1912, and was beautifully entertained.

Again this year was sent $2.50 to Meadow Garden, which contribution has been sent by this Chapter annually since 1905. The Constitution of the Chapter has been recently revised, the chairman of the Revision Committee, Mrs. Mallory Taylor, was a member of each of the two previous Revision Committees. Our regular monthly meetings are well attended, our Regent always presiding.

OCHLOCKNEE CHAPTER, THOMASVILLE.

Mrs. J. H. Merrill, Regent.

The Ochlocknee Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was organized June 5, 1912. At that time there were thirteen members whose papers had been approved. Since then seven others have joined, making a membership of twenty.

It was at first decided to have our meetings entirely social, but since it has seemed wiser to meet at the library and discuss some historical subject, or to have some kind of program every time.

Our Chapter is young, and we have not accomplished much. The lineage books have been secured, and the "American Monthly" has been subscribed for. Mrs. Foster was with us on January 28th. A reception was given her by the Chapter, and at that time she made a most interesting talk about the D. A. R. work and what it means.

JONATHAN BRYAN CHAPTER, WAYCROSS.

Mrs. J. H. Redding, Regent.

We regret that we have no representative at the conference this year. Our Chapter has been greatly bereaved in the passing from earth December 14, 1912, of Miss Sarah Stewart Letford, a descendant of Oglethorpe's friend, Sir Francis Harris, and Dr. Donald McLeod, a Scotch Highlander. She inherited their talent. Gentle and cultured, a purer spirit never walked this earth.

As associate editor of the Waycross Journal, she used her talents for all that was good and true, and especially for the uplift of our rural population. She was the first to suggest the idea of forming the Boys' Corn Clubs, and used her pen to promote and encourage that work. She collected over 300 books for the beginning of a library for the rural schools of Ware County, and we sadly miss her from our ranks. The forces she set in motion are bearing rich fruit.

Our Chapter numbers 22, and our monthly meeting from October until June, are much enjoyed. We have contributed $2.00 to Memorial Hall, $2.00 to Meadow Garden, $5.00 to the Emily Hendree Park Memorial Scholarship, and $5.00 as a prize for a composition on the life of Washington.

We are ready to still further aid the fund for preserving the Ebenezer Records, if more is needed to complete the work.

DAVID MERIWETHER CHAPTER, GREENVILLE.

Mrs. John L. Strozier, Regent.

Our Chapter during the year has increased in membership, four new members and one paper at Washington to be verified, numbering in all 24. We have met very regularly during the entire year, and a very much greater interest has been taken. The Chapter programs each month have been entertaining the State Historic Programs have always been enjoyable. We thank Mrs. J. H. Redding for the carefully prepared and instructive programs. Georgia Day was observed with suitable exercises, also the Fourth of July. Mrs. J. L. Strozier entertained on the Fourth of July last in honor of our beloved State Regent, Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster, who gave us a soul-stirring address on the work of the Daughters, and all present were charmed with Mrs. Foster.

On that occasion Mrs. Foster presented to the David Meriwether Chapter the Declaration of Independence and in the early part of the year she gave us a picture of Continental Hall. We are certainly indebted to Mrs. Foster for these lovely pictures.

Our Committee on Historic Sites and Revolutionary Soldiers have been making diligent research and we are glad to say their efforts have not been in vain. The names and records of eight Revolutionary soldiers have been found to have lived and died in our County (Meriwether), and we hope to have their graves marked in the near future.

Three storiottes have been prepared by Mrs. J. A. Thrash, Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. J. W. Park, and sent in to our State Regent from the David Meriwether Chapter. Our Chapter uses the Song of the Revolution at our monthly meetings, as well as other patriotic songs.

Only a few of our members, I am sorry to say, are subscribers to the American Monthly Magazine. Our donations have been as follows: Continental Hall $5.00 Martha Berry School $7.50, and to Meadow Garden $2.50. We wish for a profitable Conference and success to every Chapter during the year 1913.

GOV. TREUTLEN CHAPTER, FORT VALLEY.

Mrs. Stella Neil, Regent.

The past year has been one of unusual misfortune in the loss of our beloved Regent, Mrs. Geo. T. Harris, whose death occurred November 24th, and was the cause of universal sorrow, not only in our Chapter and community, but throughout the state.

Our Chapter has always been weak in number, but with the contagion of Mrs. Harris' enthusiasm, we hardly realized how few we were until she left us, and we learned how much we relied on her for everything. The influence of her life for good in the community, will be lasting, and has already been of inestimable value to us, for with the loss of our Regent and some of our members moving away, it was suggested to disband, but with the protests of a few, and the memory of her who served us so well, we reconsidered and conquered.

Of the work of our Chapter, $5.00 was contributed to Martha Berry School, $5.00 to Memorial Continental Hall, $1.30 to Meadow Garden, $1.00 to Real Daughters, $1.00 to Park Memorial.

On November 20th, we presented to the Fort Valley High school a large flag, with appropriate exercises, at which time we had the honor of entertaining our State Regent, Mrs. Foster, and having her address us on this occasion, after which a luncheon was served at Mrs. Harris' home, which was just four days before her sudden and untimely death.

We are not in position at this time to make any financial obligations, but we are holding our own, and several are contemplating joining us, and we hope our next report will be more favorable.

BARON DE KALB CHAPTER, CLARKSTON.

Mrs. Catherine R. Dillon, Regent.

Four months and four days ago a group of twelve Clarkston ladies were organized into a Chapter, in the smallest place in Georgia that a Chapter had ever materialized; and it was brought about by one of the youngest Regents. In time, its present membership believes it will become an important factor for good in the D. A. R. organization.

Though this infant Chapter is barely out of swaddling clothes, she is quite a rollicking youngster, and is reaching out her hand to give and receive love and encouragement. Our little group of D. A. R. has renewed the research of genealogy and history among the public in their vicinity to a marvelous degree; family records are being unearthed, which had lain dormant among brains since the greatest of genealogical works the world has ever known—Our Creators in the Holy Book.

Baron de Kalb gave a beautiful reception at its birth, inviting all the ladies of Clarkston, and the towns, Stone Mountain, Conyers, Decatur and Atlanta were represented. In the absence of the invited State and National officers, who were providentially kept away, Miss Dillon gave a short talk on the good of D. A. R. work, and we hope that the mustard seed fell in good ground, and in the near future they may spring up in D. A. R. memberships.

We are so happy to know that Congress has voted an appropriation for the publication of the Revolutionary Records. We had been interested in this, expecting to lend our efforts towards having it done. Our small contributions have been made to Meadow Garden, Martha Berry School and Memorial Continental Hall fund. The round D. A. R. Medal was offered to DeKalb County School children for Revolutionary history. Articles were written by our Corresponding Secretary for the press on the proper observance of Christmas, another condemning the "Bunny Hug" and similar dances, and a third making a request for information concerning historical spots, etc.

A number of Revolutionary graves were reported to us and for these we are advertising in various ways that it may be our privilege to mark them.

About ten days before this Convention a fearful cyclone passed through our county, and as our Treasury was rather depleted, the individual members sent bedding, bandages, food and clothing; also, small cash contributions to the sufferers. The Regent, among her friends raised $25.00 to install windows in a house built by friends for one helpless family, all physically injured, the baby child killed, and having had every vestige of their home swept away.

We keep a Chapter scrap book, and all relics obtained. We have the only piece of the first Seal of Georgia in our collection—a tiny part of which was accepted as one of the six (6) metals going into the new Liberty Bell.

Our monthly meetings are enthusiastically attended. At these we use a historical program which has proven most interesting. At the New Year's meeting the Regent presented each member with a calendar, bearing a patriotic quotation and showing a picture of her home, the place where Baron De Kalb Chapter was organized.

Three members have entertained us delightfully Christmas. Mrs. Elder gave a buffet luncheon and invited a number of guests; Mrs. Frank Armstrong entertained at tea in January, and Mrs. Freeman Johnston opened her hospitable doors in an elaborate Washington reception. The membership has increased by six, among whom is the distinguished authoress, Mary E. Bryan.

My Chapter requests me to ask the ladies of this body if they agree with our Registrar General in a recent communication to a member of Baron De Kalb Chapter, in which she states that the United States has only had three (3) generals—Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

DAVID MERIWETHER CHAPTER, GREENVILLE.

Mrs. John L. Strozier, Regent.

David Meriwether Chapter has twenty-three members and two applicants for membership. Five dollars has been contributed to Memorial Continental Hall, $7.50 to Martha Berry School and $2.50 to Meadow Garden. Georgia Day was observed with appropriate exercises. Fourth of July was also observed. We had with us on this occasion, our State Regent, Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster. The Declaration of Independence, framed, was presented to the David Meriwether Chapter by Mrs. Foster, who also gave us an instructive address. Miss Mary Tigner represented the Chapter at the State Conference at Augusta, and Mrs. J. W. Mlligan represents us today at the twenty-second Continental Congress.

A committee from the Chapter on Historic Sites and Records have found the records of seven Revolutionary soldiers, and a committee has been appointed to locate the graves of these soldiers.

At the request of State Regent, three storiottes have been prepared by Mrs. J. A. Thrash, Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. J. W. Park, and sent to the Regent. We have two subscribers only to the American Monthly Magazine. We hope, in the near future, to gatehr up much more local historical data.

Through the kindness of our State Regent, we have had presented to the Chapter a picture of Memorial Continental Hall. This picture, together with the Declaration of Independence, we hope will some day be hung upon the walls of our Chapter House.

One of the most attractive features of our monthly programs is the carefully prepared papers of our members. A paper prepared by Mrs. M. J. Hill, of Greenville, Ga., is one worthy of mention, entitled: "My Recollections of Greenville Seventy-seven Years Ago." Mrs. Hill was only 4 years old when she came to our town; she is now 81 last March 4th. We use the historical program prepared by our State Committee, of which Mrs. J. H. Redding, of Waycross, is Chairman. Our Chapter has adopted "The Song of the Revolution," and paid out $1.00 for three copies of this song. We hope to do more and better work another year, and to respond more liberally to the different causes.

JOSEPH HABERSHAM CHAPTER, ATLANTA.

Mrs. John A. Perdue, Regent.

Each year is crowned by something gratifying and interesting that has been wrought. The most important with us is the final payment on our Peachtree lot, purchased fifteen months ago for $6,750.00. From all sources our treasurer has received $4,131.49. The most formidable undertaking to secure this amount was a restaurant, conducted by the entire membership, and netted $1,940.00. The increased attendance and interest shown at monthly meetings, made it imperative to have a home of our own, whereupon the incorporators met and recommended to the Chapter the issuance of "bonds" to the amount sufficient to build a house. The Chapter unanimously adopted the suggestion and the bonds are now being sold to men and women in and out of the Chapter.

Activities in finance did not cause us to lag in raising our membership. Fifty-six names have been added to our roll, of which thirty-three are life members. Our Registrar has been quite diligent and finds that a number of our Real Daughters have passed away, but we still have seven with us. We have transferred six to other Chapters and three have been called Home by our Father in Heaven—Mrs. Susan Gardner, Mrs. Elizabeth Dallas and Mrs. Samuel Prioleau, our ex-treasurer.

Three Scholarships secured by chairman, Mrs. J. W. McArthur, one of four years, to Marist College, and two to Southern Shorthand and Business University, making the third Scholarship given by this institution. A silver cup and five dollars were given to Girls' High School for best essay on Fulton County. All holidays have been observed, especially Georgia Day and Flag Day.

Our treasurer sends to this Conference a "clean sheet"—the names of 333 active members—dues paid up to date and present address known to the secretary.

Also wish to show our two books of Archives containing the application papers of the first four hundred members of Joseph Habersham Chapter. The work required to get these together cannot be told; our loved Vice President General, Mrs. Wm. L. Peel, ceased not to labor until it was finished. We expect to have the third volume soon.

I say goodbye for twelve months. I could not point you to a more appropriate motto than that learned from our insignia—the distaff which is the emblem of feminine occupation, and fates are always represented in spinning the threads of life—the 13 stars and 13 spokes represent the 13 states in unity. So may it ever be an impetus to us to weave in unity and industry greater deeds of patriotism the acts of loyalty in the woof of life.

BRUNSWICK CHAPTER, BRUNSWICK.

Mrs. J. H. Morgan, Regent.

The year just closed has been one of interest and achievement for the Brunswick Chapter. Since report at last Conference, we have gained eight new members and have lost one by transfer. Two on our roll are life members, making our total membership forty-one. We have two associate members, and two new papers are waiting to be verified.

All National Holidays have been appropriately celebrated. We have contributed $15.00 to Continental Memorial Hall, and $5.00 to the Emily Hendree Park Memorial.

Our principal efforts the past year have been given to educational work. In order to stimulate a love of history in the children of the public schools, our Chapter has offered a medal to the student writing the best essay on some Revolutionary topic.

We have secured space in the Public Library and have placed seventy-five valuable historical works, genealogical works, and works of reference, including the Charkley Records.

These are for the use of the schools and public at large.

Our Chapter House fund increases. Much interest is felt in it, and we hope before many months pass to begin active work on it.

JOHN HOUSTON CHAPTER, THOMASTON.

Mrs. J. F. Lewis, Regent.

Our Chapter has grown from a membership of 38 to 50, with a loss of two—one by transfer and one by resignation, making a gain of twelve members, with six papers yet to be heard from and a number to be filled out and sent on.

We have held each regular monthly meeting at the homes of members. Attendance good and a great deal of interest manifested, which same never seems to lag. After the business, the historical programs are used, interspersed with music, followed by a social cup of tea.

We are paying tuition for same little girl we had in school last year and hope to continue her through until graduation. One of John Houston's members is also paying tuition of a boy in R. E. Lee Institute, and credit goes to our Chapter.

There were five contestants for essay this past year. Their work was so nearly equal that it was hard for the committee to decide, so after awarding first and second prizes, the three remaining little girls were given souvenir booklets as rewards of merit. The subject chosen by the Educational Committee this year is, "Tomochichi's Character and Influence of the Southern Indian of the Sixteenth Century," for which a first and second prize has again been offered to Seventh Grade. Donations have been made to Meadow Garden and Martha Berry Schools. Had 200 slips of "Flag Code" published and presented to R. E. Lee Institute, to be placed in the histories used.

Government marker has been placed over the grave of Sergeant Wm. Caraway, a Revolutionary soldier, of Thomaston. A marker is to be placed over Col. Benjamin Hawkins' grave until a handsomer one can be bought. Have secured pictures of Col. Hawkins' grave, also of an Indian mound near this old Indian Agency. Two more graves have been located. Committee has copied old epitaphs in City Cemetery and are to copy the first marriage records in Court House.

Committee on Church Histories have had three histories and one paper on "Educational Interests of Upson," written and sent to State Regent and Historian General, with others almost complete.

Four Block Certificates have been sent in from this Chapter. Georgia Day was quietly observed at Houston Hall only by Chapter. Flag Day and Independence Day was publicly observed on July 4th with appropriate exercises, again in Houston Hall, with a good attendance. Washington's Birthday was observed with a Silver Tea and a neat sum realized. The Chapter Birthday was remembered by the purchase of a book of research.

Through the efforts of a member of John Houston Chapter, thirty volumes of Candler's "Georgia Colonial, Revolutionary and Confederate Histories" have been secured from the State Library and placed in the Library of R. E. Lee Institute. The Chapter is subscribing for the following magazines: "Journal of American History," "William and Mary Magazine," and "American Monthly."

The following is the financial report for the year:

Amount handled by Treasurer during year.....	$265 88
Amount paid by vouchers.....	200 12

Balance on hand.....	$ 65 76

ELIJAH CLARKE CHAPTER, ATHENS.

Mrs. Frances Long Taylor, Regent.

Our work for the last year has been harmonious and most satisfactory. The Chapter has held its regular monthly meetings and five called meetings with the Regent. They have been well attended. The social hour following the business and literary program has proved most enjoyable. Our life historian arranges most interesting programs and excellent historical papers are used. The board and all standing committees have done good work. We have framed a new Constitution and By-Laws.

Our principal efforts have been in educational work. We have added to our Perpetual Scholarship Fund $200.00. This amount with notes and interest due, gives us $600.00. We have planned an entertainment to be given in April. The proceeds of which we hope will complete the amount necessary, when placed at interest, to keep a student at the State Normal School perpetually.

We have contributed the following sums: to Continental Hall $5.00; Meadow Garden $1.00; Miss Rutherford contributes through this Chapter, six of her books to Park Memorial. We have not confined ourselves to educational work alone. In May we sent the Mississippi flood sufferers several large boxes of good clothing valued at $200.00.

October 26th, 1912, the Elijah Clarke Chapter tendered a reception to the members and hostesses of the U. D. C., who were attending the convention which met in Athens. We were so fortunate as to have in our reception line, our Honored State Regent, and many of the State officers.

On the 22nd of February the Regent entertained the Chapter at a luncheon and an appropriate program was arranged. A most interesting and instructive paper was read by Dean Snelling, of the University of Georgia on the Battle of Bloody Marsh.

We have located three Revolutionary soldiers' graves and are arranging to make application for headstones.

We have received nine new members, four are awaiting papers.

We have lost no member by resignation, none have been transferred, but we have been saddened by the deaths of two of our loved and valued members, Mrs. Mary Montieth and Mrs. Ella F. White.

ATLANTA CHAPTER, ATLANTA.

Mrs. J. O. Wynn, Regent.

The bulk of the past year's history recorded here belongs to the administration of its former Regent, Mrs. Sam D. Jones. The growth of the Chapter was perhaps the most striking incident of the year's work, thirty-five life memberships having been secured by the personal effort of Mrs. Jones and one hundred and thirty new members having joined the Chapter. In material achievements also, its progress was marked. In addition to a large sum raised for the building fund, a fine piano, heaters, chairs, and other furnishings were bought. Thus, we are completing our Chapter Home, which we not only enjoy ourselves, but which upon our invitation, was used by the Atlanta Woman's Club and the U. D. C. last fall. The comfort of our building is further enhanced by having secured a custodian. A Year Book was printed, including list of officers, members, calendar and By-Laws, which were revised by a committee, of which Mrs. Frank Orme was chairman.

The Chapter owns a scholarship in Washington Seminary, and awards a medal in the same school for the best essay on the subject, "A Woman of the Revolution."

It has donated $15.00 to Martha Berry School, $10.00 to Meadow Garden, and $10.00 to be used by the Regent at her discretion at the State Conference, for other objects.

Enthusiastic interest characterized all the meetings, numbering fourteen, of the past year. They were as follows:

Seven regular monthly, three patriotic, one musical, one flower day, one birthday celebration, and one portrait unveiling ceremony. Each was a pronounced success in its way.

The patriotic celebrations were featured by contributions from some of the most distinguished men of Atlanta, including Dr. Hughlett, Meminger and White, Mr. Eugene Black and Mr. George Hinman, president of the Story Teller's League.

Music for these occasions was furnished by finest orchestras, singers and pianists, and leading florists decorated the assembling room beautifully.

At several of the regular meetings, original papers prepared for the Revolutionary Reader" were read by members, and the medal essay written by Miss Fielder, was read on one occasion.

A musical which was an artistic treat and financial success, was given in October by a committee for the piano fund.

On May the 29th, flowers and vines were planted on the grounds of the Chapter House, by a number of members.

Bright toasts and a good luncheon were features of the day. The 21st birthday celebration of the Chapter on April the 15th was a brilliant event, at which ten ex-Regents received with the Regent.

A portrait of a beloved ex-Regent, Mrs. Jennie L. Byers, deceased, was presented by her son and unveiled with appropriate ceremonies last May.

In a personal way, the Chapter is distinguished in numbering among its members two of the State officers, the State Regent, Mrs. S. W. Foster, and the State Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Howard McCall.

Preliminary plans have been made for a Tea Room and Gift Shop, to be conducted during Opera week. From this source we hope to realize a sufficient sum to free us from our first concern and obligation, a small debt on our Chapter House, so that we can then extend our historical and patriotic work to proportions in keeping with the size and character of our Chapter.

TOMOCHICHI CHAPTER, CLARKSVILLE.

Miss Addie Bass, Regent.

The Tomochichi Chapter, D. A. R., of Clarksville, has held regular monthly meetings. We have used the programs of the State Committee, supplemented by reports of research work done for the County History which we have undertaken. We have begun work on the History of Habersham County, which will include that of several counties as Habersham was originally quite large. We hope to complete this history by the time of the county's centennial in 1918, the celebration of which we have already begun to agitate.

Two new graves of revolutionary soldiers have been located, but not sufficient proof has been found to mark. One new member has been added to our list this year. We have interested several schools in writing essays of ancestors and in celebrating Georgia Day.

LYMAN HALL CHAPTER, WAYCROSS.

Mrs. J. L. Walker, Regent.

The Lyman Hall Chapter was organized June 10th, 1907, by Mrs. E. A. Pound. She was appointed Regent, and was a most efficient officer. We deeply regret her loss as an officer and an enthusiastic D. A. R. Since she became a resident of Atlanta she has been elected to membership in the Joseph Habersham Chapter, of that city.

Mrs. Walker, who won many laurels as our historian, was elected Regent, and, inspired by her enthusiasm, the Chapter has had a very interesting year.

In October the Chapter gave a very successful entertainment and the money so obtained is to be used for educational purposes in South Georgia.

Arbor Day was observed on Georgia Day, and a very interesting program was carried out.

The Chapter gave $10.00 to Continental Hall and the Regent has offered $5.00 to the High School pupil writing the best essay on "The Life of Lyman Hall in Georgia." We have had monthly meetings which have been instructive and highly enjoyable socially.

With best wishes for a prosperous year, this report is most respectfully submitted.

AUGUSTA CHAPTER, AUGUSTA.

Mrs. Chas. H. Phinizy, Regent.

There are now 103 names on our Chapter Roll. Since the last Conference, we have gained one member by transfer and four by admission. We have lost one by death, two by transfer to other Chapters and two have resigned. Thus our loss has exactly balanced our gain.

All meetings have been well attended and much enthusiasm manifested since we began planning for this Conference.

Washington's Birthday was observed by a tea at Meadow Garden and the Fourth of July was celebrated by a public meeting at which our Chaplain delivered an oration.

The following donations have been made: Befry School, $10.00; Memorial Continental Hall, $10.00; Emily Hendree Park Memorial, $10.00; Mary H. Washington Memorial, $5.00; Mary Desha Memorial, $1.00.

As is well understood, the work of this Chapter is the upkeep of Meadow Garden, and the past year we have spent $90.85 for this purpose, distributed as follows: Cleaning and Janitor, $18.50; furnishings, $27.35; Hedge, $16.50; Taxes, $13.50; Insurance, $15.00. Our receipts have been as follows: Admission fees each Monday

(three months) $15.00; Sale catalogues, $4.20; Donations from visitors, $6.00; donation from Mrs. Foster, State Regent, $5.00; donations from the D. A. R. Chapter, of Georgia, itemized $31.30, as follows: Atlanta, $5.00; Elijah Clark, $1.00; Henry Walton, $2.00; George Walton, $1.00; Stone Castle, $1.00; Governor Treutlen, $1.30; Piedmont Continental, $2.00; Savannah, $5.00; Lachlan McIntosh, $2.00; Nancy Hart, $1.00; Dorothy Walton, $10.00.

Gifts received by Mrs. Harriet Gould Jeffries, 1913, for Meadow Garden: 18 books for the library, from Hon. Thomas W. Hardwick; 2 lineage books, from the National Society, D. A. R; from Mr. William S. Shepherd, of Columbus, a handsome old mahogany work table that formerly belonged to his great-great grandmother, Sarah Griswold Hillhouse. She was born in New Haven, Conn., moved to Washington, Ga., and there edited one of the first newspapers published in Georgia, "The Monitor."

Mrs. W. A. Burham, of Iesington-on-Hudson, N. Y., presented a "Star Spangled Banner."

Miss Mary M. Cleckley presented at their Conference, a portrait of her great-great grandfather, Governor John Adam Treutlen.

SERGEANT NEWTON CHAPTER, COVINGTON.

Mrs. W. C. Clark, Regent.

The past year has been a busy one, the monthly meetings held at the homes of different members, have been full of interest and well attended. Our Regent, Mrs. Clark, is away, in Paris, but Mrs. Bell Knox Rogers, acting Regent, is doing very efficient work, and the Chapter thrives under her administration. We have about thirty members on roll, several applications are pending. We have contributed to the Educational Fund, Continental Hall and various other causes, and have subscribed for the American Monthly. We have had a Colonial tea, that was a beautiful affair.

PULASKI CHAPTER, GRIFFIN.

Mrs. T. R. Mills, Regent.

Pulaski Chapter reports the addition of seven members, one resignation, and one death, a net gain of five, with a total active membership of thirty-six. Seven applications await completion. As in most small municipalities, Pulaski Chapter membership is nearly identical with other organizations of women in the city, consequently there is little to report for outside work.

Our usual contribution to Meadow Garden, two dollars to the Emily Hendree Park Memorial and the liquidation of a debt contracted before this year, not for charitable purposes, comprise our financial budget. Under the inspiration of the visit of our State

Regent, we have resolved to do something worth while next year for one or more objects recommended by this Conference.

Our Regent, Mrs. R. H. Drake, was called to the State Board during the year. Those who recall the noble service done by Mrs. Thomas R. Mills in past years know, that as Regent, she will not allow interest to flag.

In November our hearts were saddened by the passing on of that noble woman, Sallie Harris Boynton, widow of Hon. James S. Boynton. Fragile in health, yet she bore herself with dignity and graciousness. In her home life, service in church work, presiding over the governor's mansion, comforting her dearly loved soldiers, as member of the Daughters of American Revolution, she was always the same. Faithful in attendance, generous in sympathy as well as money, she is a loss to Chapter, State and National organizations. We can only say: "So He giveth His beloved sleep."

GOVERNOR JARED IRWIN CHAPTER, SANDERSVILLE.

Mrs. Dan C. Harris, Regent.

While we are young and have but a short report to make, we are glad to tell you that our Chapter has had a pleasant and profitable year, and interest in the work is increasing along every line of activity undertaken by the state and in a local way.

We were influential in having Georgia Day observed in the High School here and in the County Schools. A prize has been offered to pupil of sixth grade making best mark in history of Revolutionary period. We find this best way to stimulate interest. We have made donations to the Martha Berry School and to Meadow Garden, also to Library of our town. Two new members have been added to our roll.

We have had regular meetings and splendid programs throughout the year.

GEN. JAMES JACKSON CHAPTER, VALDOSTA.

Mrs. Alex Peeples, Regent.

The General James Jackson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Valdosta, was organized October 12th, 1908. This is our first representation at State Conference, and through our Regent, Mrs. Peeples, send our most cordial greetings and best wishes for the D. A. R. throughout the country.

Our Chapter, though young and containing only seventeen members, is zealous and ardent in its work.

We celebrated Gen. Washington's Birthday with a Silver tea, which netted the Chapter $27.50. This, added to National dues, $30.00, and State Taxes, $1.75, makes a total of $81.98.

Our disbursements have been as follows: Taxes for 1912-13, $5.10; National dues, $15.00; Stationery and stamps, 50c; Floral design,

$5.75; Continental Hall, Washington, $5.00; Martha Berry School, $50.00; cash in bank, 63 cents. Total, $81.98.

We have planned several entertainments for which we hope to derive substantial reward, including the sale of moving picture tickets, which the Chapter will undertake at once. The members are growing more and more enthusiastic, and we hope to be able to make a better report at our next convention.

JOHN BENNING CHAPTER, MOULTRIE.

Mrs. W. S. Howell, Regent.

John Benning Chapter wishes to report that on the whole, the year has been pleasant and profitable. Three new members have been added to the roll and several applicants are preparing their papers.

Our regular meetings are held on the third Thursday of the month at the homes of the members. The Chapter gave a benefit entertainment from which it realized $97.00. The following contributions have been made: Memorial Continental Hall, $5.00; Mary Hammond Washington Fund $5.00; Medal given in historical contest, $5.00.

Some months ago, members of John Benning Chapter, upon making inquiry, found that there was an Indian Mound in this county, about twelve miles from Moultrie on Bridge Creek. This mound is about 100 feet across and 10 feet high. It has never been dug into more than two feet. However, at that depth, pottery, the well preserved bone of a leg, a skull and numerous small bones and teeth were found. Teeth have frequently been brought up by the ants. The history of this mound is not known, but the supposition by some is, that it dates back to the time of DeSoto's march through Georgia.

The D. A. R. Chapter will make a thorough investigation of the find and believe they will be able to add something of interest to the early Georgia history.

KETTLE CREEK CHAPTER, WASHINGTON.

Annie M. Lane, Regent.

Kettle Creek Chapter now has twenty-four members on its roll, but our active membership is comparatively small, owing to the fact that a large number who retain their membership with us have become residents of other places.

February 14 was the date of the battle of Kettle Creek. This year one Chapter celebrated it by giving a reception, and having the history of the battle read. The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Belle Hill King. Over a hundred flags were used in decorating. A large Betsy Ross flag floated grandly over the front piazza entrance. Our public school celebrated Georgia Day, and Arbor Day, under the direction of the Daughters of the Revolution.

On March 4th, we entertained for the teachers of our county, giving them a reception, and having the state school superintendent, Mr. Brittain, address them.

We feel that our Chapter is in pretty good shape, and doing good work in a quiet way.

We would like very much to have three markers for graves located—Abram Simons, Archibald Simpson and Silas Mercer. We have done all we could to get three markers, but have failed thus far.

HENRY WALTON CHAPTER, MADISON.

Mrs. Lee Trammell, Regent.

The Henry Walton Chapter has spent a pleasant and helpful year. In two years our Chapter has reached its maximum membership. We have grown from thirteen charter members to thirty, which we have fixed as our limit. We are interested and zealous in our work, believing that a few faithful workers are worth more than a larger membership not so loyal. We have endeavored not to undertake more than we feel that we could accomplish. We re-elected our same corps of officers and feel gratified to have so able a band at the head.

We have lost one member by transfer, and although it is with regret we give her up, we learn with pleasure of her election as Regent of the Hartwell Chapter, which is just being organized. We have gained two new members and one by transfer.

Our National work has been contributed to the following causes: Mary Hammond Washington Bust Fund, $1.00; Historic Sites and Monuments, $1.00; Meadow Garden, $1.00; Continental Memorial Hall, $1.00; Park Memorial, $1.00.

When our National Tax is paid only a small sum is left in the treasury, so our funds are necessarily raised by some outside work. From an entertainment we cleared $15.50.

Our local work for the past year was the marking of our one Revolutionary soldier's grave, Benjamin Fitzpatrick. This grave is about eight miles out from Madison, in a lonely and secluded family burial ground. Several hundred people, among whom were many descendants of this honored soldier, attended the unveiling. Fitting and impressive exercises were held, and little Benjamin Fitzpatrick, aged two years, the youngest descendant, unveiled the slab. Now a handsome and attractive slab marks the resting place of this worthy patriot.

Our attendance for the year has been very good, and every program has been interesting and instructive. The social half hour adds greatly to the pleasure of the occasion. We observe all national days by suitable programs, and so enjoyable have our meetings become, that we have abandoned the custom of disbanding throughout the summer as formerly.

For another year's work we are expecting to assist county and state schools, especially the Berry school.

OGLETHORPE CHAPTER, COLUMBUS.

Mrs. Calrence J. Edge, Regent.

Oglethorpe Chapter was organized in 1892 and a ceaseless effort has been used to add to the past history of our country, and other patriotic work. In fact, our section of the state was so far removed from actual scene of hostilities, our field of discovery is largely circumscribed and our charter labors narrowed. We shall continue our investigations as in the past and supplement our efforts with additional altruistic work.

Our Chapter has at present 51 members, with other expectancies pending. Since our last report we have added three new members, re-instated one, two resignations, two transfers and one death, Mrs. A. C. Flewellen (No. 19108.)

We have discovered (not previously reported), in Linwood cemetery, Columbus, Georgia, the graves of two Revolutionary soldiers, James Allen and George Wells Foster, both from Virginia. The latter "was one of the last signers of the States' Constitution." Worthy of mention is the grave (also in Linwood cemetery), of another patriot and statesman, Maj. Thomas M. Nelson, born in Virginia, 1782, died in 1853, in a suburb of Columbus. He was an officer in the war of 1812 and also a member of Congress.

We hoped at this meeting to report the removal from St. Andrews Bay, Fla., of the remains of Ex-Gov. Clark, of Georgia. He moved from our state in 1827 to Florida, and died there October, 1832. Our city authorities have kindly set apart for his final resting place a suitable plot in Linwood cemetery, and we trust in the near future to inter with due honor the dust of this distinguished Georgian.

Our "Year Book," the work of an able committee, is devoted mainly to essays on Revolutionary heroines. The monthly meetings have been made attractive by exhibition of Radiopticon views of a Revolutionary and patriotic nature, by Miss Maymie Banks.

We regret our inability to answer more liberally all the worthy appeals made us for assistance. Our contributions this year, Continental Hall, $15.00; Berry School, $10.00; Free Kindergarten, $10.00; Meadow Garden, $1.00.

Our Chapter, I am pleased to say, is strengthened by harmonious action, and the laying aside of personal ambition, we hope for a continued prosperity and unity.

THRONATEESKA CHAPTER, ALBANY.

Mrs. J. W. Walters, Regent.

Organized 1895—Reorganized 1909.

We have a membership of 28, with three applications awaiting the arrival of papers. Number gained last year, 7.

We hold regular monthly meetings at the homes of the members, each of whom enters with enthusiasm into all the work undertaken by the Chapter. The program consists of current events concerning the State and National D. A. R. work, patriotic music, and the reading of papers upon historical subjects appropriate to the month.

This Chapter is engaged in raising funds to erect a boulder to mark the site of Pindartown in Worth County. Two very successful entertainments have been given for this purpose—an exhibit of antiques early in November and a Washington tea on February 22nd.

We have contributed to the following: Martha Berry School, $5.00; chair for Continental Hall, $10.00; Medal in (public school) Historical Contest, $8.60; total, $23.60.

All dues have been paid and all obligations met. A nice balance remains in the treasury.

NANCY HART CHAPTER, MILLEDGEVILLE.

Mrs. O. M. Cone, Regent.

No special work has been accomplished by the Nancy Hart Chapter during the past year, but unusual interest has been manifested in the regular monthly meetings. The history questions arranged by Mrs. Redding are always an attractive feature of the program.

We have lost two members by removal, have received one new member into the Chapter, and have several prospective members working on their papers.

Contributions have been made to Continental Hall, Meadow Garden and Berry School. These contributions were small, which we regret, but we have not yet raised sufficient money to place bronze tablets on the old State Capitol and the Governor's Mansion, and most of our funds have been reserved for that purpose.

STEPHENS HOPKINS CHAPTER, MARSHALLVILLE.

Mrs. Marshal Timberlake, Regent.

Stephens Hopkins Chapter sends greetings and begs to make the following report:

We have contributed to Emily Hendree Park and Mary H. Washington Memorial, Martha Berry School, and given a medal to the member of the Graduating Class, who wrote the best essay on the Revolutionary Battles of Georgia. We observed both Georgia Day and Washington's Birthday with beautiful receptions, and in the schools in a fitting manner.

During the coming year we will contribute $1.00 to Meadow Garden, and $5.00 to the Berry School; we will also give a medal to the member of the Graduating Class, who writes the best essay on Conservation.

We are interested in all the lines of D. A. R. work, the Sane Christmas, Child Labor, Conservation and Compulsory Education.

Received two new members during the year, making our number now twenty-two.

NATHANIEL ABNEY CHAPTER, FITZGERALD.

Mrs. L. W. Meakin, Regent.

The year just closed has been one full of interest along educational and civic lines. The meetings, held in the homes of the members, are both business and social, the social hour coming after the business is dispensed with.

Brief Revolutionary items are given by each member in response to the roll call. Three new members have been added to our membership.

A gold medal was offered by the Chapter to the high school pupils for the best essay in "Georgia and her Revolutionary Heroes." The medal was awarded with appropriate exercises on "Georgia Day," Fourth of July and "Flag Day" were also observed. A saner Fourth and Christmas were heartily endorsed and agitated by the Chapter.

The civic work, under the excellent supervision of Mrs. J. B. Seamon, has mostly centered on the beautifying of the Court House Square with excellent results.

Two unmarked graves of the Revolution have been located by our Chapter in Telfair County, which we hope to mark in the near future.

The very best of all the year was saved until the very last, when Mrs. S. W. Foster, State Regent, was with us and addressed the Chapter, which was both charming and instructive. A beautiful luncheon was tendered by our Regent, Mrs. L. W. Meakin.

ETOWAH CHAPTER.

Mrs. E. D. Cole, Regent.

With most cordial greetings and best wishes for the continued success of the cause in which we are united, the Etowah Chapter begs leave to submit the following report:

In July last our beloved Regent, Mrs. Oscar T. Peeples, was forced by ill health to resign. Believing it best for the Chapter, Mrs. Peeples called a meeting for the election of a Regent for her unexpired term, at which time Mrs. Emried Dargan Cole was elected, the other officers remaining the same.

Although our Chapter has not been able to accomplish the many things that it would have liked to, we are glad to report that it is in good financial condition, and composed of thirty-three enthusiastic members, having lost six and gained seven within the past year.

In August, Mrs. Foster, our State Regent, paid us a visit and was tendered a reception by the Regent. The members of the Chapter assisted in receiving and were delighted to meet Mrs. Foster socially, as well as to come in touch with her personal work.

In September Mrs. Peeples was made Honorary Regent and presented with a pin bearing this title as a token of the appreciation of her splendid work done for the Chapter.

At the suggestion of the State Executive Board, our Chapter endorsed the Saner Christmas Movement, notices of which were published in both of our city papers.

Washington's Birthday was observed with an entertainment given to the school children, during which an address was delivered on the life of the "Father of our Country."

One Revolutionary grave, that of Major John Lewis, has been marked.

We also wish to report the good work done by our Chapter in getting up Bible records, these being published in the D. A. R. column of The Atlanta Constitution, and at Mrs. Minnie E. Hogan's request have been sent her for the National Board of Research. They have also been sent the Virginia Magazine of History.

GOV. JOHN MILLEDGE CHAPTER, DALTON.

Mrs. C. M. Hollinsworth, Regent.

Organized on January 19th, 1912, with fourteen members, we today have enrolled twenty-one, one being a life member. A Year Book, containing an interesting historical program, was published, and has been used at our regular monthly meetings, which are held on the fourth Tuesday of each month at the homes of the members. There is always a delightful social side of these meetings.

Flag Day and Fourth of July were fittingly observed by the Chapter.

On Georgia Day and Washington's Birthday, splendid patriotic programs were rendered in our city schools, a committee from this Chapter being present. On Georgia Day, every grade in our city and county schools (a hundred in all), was presented with a Code of Honor of the Flag, the same to be framed and hung under the stars and stripes. We believe this to be the most important and far-reaching work we have done, a love of Flag and Country being the first lesson in patriotism.

We have given a fifty dollar Scholarship to Nacoochee Valley Institute, five dollars to the pupil in our city school making the best yearly record in the study of Georgia History, and two dollars to Memorial Continental Hall, Emily Hendree Park Memorial and Meadow Garden, respectively. Also five dollars to the B. M. Thomas Chapter of U. D. C.

We have six subscribers to the American Monthly, and our historian promises something of importance to report at our next conference.

GOV. PETER EARLY CHAPTER, BLAKELY.

Mrs. Walter Thomas, Regent.

The past year has been a prosperous one for us, several new members having sent in papers; we have a membership of twenty-five.

Our Chapter has contributed to several worthy causes, and have plans formed to raise funds for larger donations to the general interests of our State and National Society.

We have given prizes to our high school, and observed each and every anniversary requested of the D. A. R.

Several elaborate entertainments were held during the past year, besides the regular monthly meetings.

We have enjoyed the Historical programs arranged monthly by Mrs. Redding, of Waycross.

The Gov. Peter Early Chapter will be represented in Washington at the National Congress by Mrs. Walter Thomas and Mrs. W. E. Bostwick.

COUNCIL OF SAFETY CHAPTER, AMERICUS.

Mrs. C. A. Fricker, Regent.

At our regular monthly meeting on June 11th last, we, the Council of Safety Chapter, had the pleasure of having with us our State Regent, Mrs. Foster, said meeting, on account of the presence of our noted visitor, being held at the Country Club, with Mrs. Fricker, Chapter Regent. Mrs. Foster gave us a stirring address, and substantial advice, and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

On Flag Day, June 14th, 1912, our Chapter unveiled the memorial erected near Leesburg, at the Indian town of Chehaw, a point on the DeSoto trail, where, in 1818 Andrew Jackson camped with his troops, while on his march to subdue the Seminoles in Florida. Present on this occasion, besides the Chapter members, were several hundred people from surrounding towns. It was to our regret that Mrs. Foster could not have remained over to this event. Among the distinguished visitors attending were Miss Anna Caroline Benning, Mrs. Joseph Harrison and Col. and Mrs. W. L. Peel.

On July 4th, a baseball benefit was given, by which we cleared $66.00, which was applied to the monument fund, said monument costing over $200.00 at the time of unveling, but which was entirely liquidated by Christmas.

We have thirty-one members; three of those in nearby towns, who often attend our meetings; eight quite far away, who we are proud to retain on our list, leaving twenty at home. There are several new members, and three or four preparing their papers.

Work for several months in the summer was suspended, but meetings were resumed in the fall.

Through several moving picture benefits and a children's party, a substantial sum was realized.

Washington's Birthday we celebrated with a colonial tea with a short drama, and fancy dances at Miss Bell's Studio, charging a small admission, and realizing a good sum.

We bought a set of books costing $48.00, for our corner in the library, and by April 1, will have paid for that.

The Chapter has offered a gold medal in local schools for the highest average in American History, to be given at the close of the session.

A contribution of $2.00 was made to the Emily Hendree Park Memorial. Have nine subscribers to the American Monthly, and will have two more soon. We are looking toward a Gift Scholarship, and other patriotic work for the early future.

GEORGE WALTON CHAPTER, COLUMBUS.

Mrs. Leighton Wilson McPherson, Regent.

With three Chapters of Daughters of the American Revolution in our city, and all earnest and progressive workers, we find the field well gleaned of Revolutionary events and eligibles; but we are optimistic and wait with our armour on.

Since our last report we have an increase of two in membership and are encouraged with prospects of a larger increase at an early date.

We have given this year a five dollar donation to the Martha Berry School and an eight dollar Scholarship in the Columbus Orphan Home.

NOTE.

AMENDMENTS TO STATE CONFERENCE, STATE REGENT, ETC.

The Constitution of the National Society (Article VI, Section 1), was amended by the Congress of 1912 by adding, as to States where a State Conference is held: "Said State Regent and State Vice-Regent to be elected by the delegates to the State Conference." This amendment provides also that, "The election of State Regents and State Vice-Regents shall be confirmed by the Continental Congress, and they shall take office at the close of the Congress at which they have been confirmed."

A later amendment, adopted at the same Congress, provides as follows: "Said State Regent and State Vice-Regent to be chosen by the delegates from each State and Territory to the Continental Congress, after February 1st, whenever and wherever they see fit; but the election shall not be complete until announced at the annual meeting of the Continental Congress and ratified by said National Congress. The announcement shall consist of a copy of the proceedings of the meeting, certified to by the Chairman and Secretary of said meeting. This certified copy must be forwarded to the Secretary of the National Congress, to be read at its annual meeting."

A still later amendment, adopted at the same Congress, provides as follows: "Each State shall be allowed to elect its own officers, and adopt its own By-Laws as suited to its needs, conformable to the Constitution and By-Laws of the National Society."

"The State Conference must be a body of delegates elected by the Chapters. The number of delegates from each Chapter shall be determined by the rules for representation of Chapters in the Continental Congress, as given in the National Constitution, except that the State Conference may increase this representation in a uniform ratio." This last amendment did not go into effect until the end of the year following its adoption, except in States in which it was decided to put it into operation at an earlier date.

The amendments quoted above are the latest on the subject, and all of them appear together in the 1912 printed edition of the National Constitution and By-Laws, Pages 10-12.

HONORARY STATE REGENT, VICE-PRESIDENT GENERAL.

An amendment adopted at the Congress of 1912, provides: "The right to elect an Honorary State Regent for a State or Territory, and to nominate a candidate for the office of Vice-President General shall belong to the delegates to the State Conference of a State or Territory."
