Georgia State Society Children of the American Revolution 1991 - 1992

The Georgia State Society C.A.R., under the leadership of William C. Hurst, Jr., has accomplished many worthwhile goals during the year. The State Project was twofold. One, to obtain new members (we gained 28). Two, to raise $100.00 as a gift to Meadow Garden, so that Georgia State Society C.A.R. could become a Patron of Meadow Garden. Both were accomplished. The State Society also gave 2 bricks ($25.00 each) toward the new brick walk at Tamassee. One brick was in honor of the State President, William

C. Hurst, Jr., and the other in honor of the Senior State President, Mrs. R. E. Scott. Georgia has added 2 societies this year to the C.A.R. family. One at Mableton, Sons and Daughters of Liberty. The organizing Senior President was Mrs. James A. Harvey, Jr. The second society is Sukey Hart with the organizing Senior President, Mrs. Frank Brown, in Milledgeville. This brings our total to 20 active societies.

The state society contributed generously to the C.A.R. national project, to help raise funds for the new lunchroom office at Kate Duncan Smith DAR School. The state also contributed generously to all other National Projects such as the C.A.R. Museum, Book Binding Fund and the Endowment Fund.

As always we appreciate the support given to us by the Georgia Daughters. During the DAR Workshops more than 100 Daughters became State Patriots and/or promoters. This again enabled Georgia to win first place award at the National C.A.R. Convention in April 1992.

In July 1991 many Georgia members and senior leaders attended Southeastern Regional in Charleston, S. C. Georgia's youngest member (6 months old, from Brunswick Society) attended with his mother, Brunswick's senior president.

A very successful workshop was held in Albany with members and seniors from 10 societies attending.

Government Studies Seminar was held in Cochran at Middle Georgia College with a good turnout. The 2 Government Studies Chairmen presented a delightful and informative program. A visit from Betsy Ross who discussed the different flags of our country was enjoyed by everyone.

The last weekend of February the 53rd Annual State Conference was held in Cartersville with Abraham Musick Society as the host society. President William C. Hurst, Jr., conducted the meetings. On Friday night candidates for office for 1992-1993 made their campaign speeches after which a "sock hop" was held.

On Saturday morning at the business meeting, State Officers, Chairmen and Society Presidents gave their reports which showed outstanding work done by the societies. Contributions of cash, clothing, Christmas and birthday gifts were sent to all the mountain and Indian schools.

We are always proud to have DAR and SAR members meet with us. Mrs. Donald D. Hankinson, Georgia State Regent, again met with us and brought greetings from the DAR.

Mr. Charles H. Dayhuff, III, State President, SAR, also met with us and brought greetings from the State SAR. He was presented a Georgia State Honor Pin by Brunswick Society.

During the luncheon a very interesting talk and slide show was presented by Professor J. B. Tate (Kennesaw College) on the Indian removal from Georgia to the Indian reservation in Oklahoma. Following this a retirement ceremony for trophies no longer usable was conducted by the trophies chairmen. New trophies given by seniors and members in honor or memory of someone were accepted. The retired trophies were returned to those who originally gave them. This was the first time such a ceremony has been conducted and was very impressive.

Saturday night an awards banquet was held and societies were awarded trophies and money for their superior work in carrying out the program of the various committees. All are to be commended for the excellent work accomplished during the year. The newly elected officers were installed with the exception of the new state president who is always installed at National Convention in Washington in April.

Following the banquet, the Grand March was held preceding the outgoing president's ball. All senior leaders were allowed to observe the March only. Then to the tune of "Good Night Seniors" they left with only the assigned chaperones remaining.

During the year 4 excellent issues of the State news sheet, CARgoes, were assembled by the first vice president, Amy Richardson of Lucy Spell Raiford Society, and her senior advisor, Mrs. Donald Rowell. These were printed and mailed to over 350 subscribers.

During the weekend of April 24-26, (10) members and seniors traveled, by various methods, to Washington for the National Convention. On Wednesday, Senior National Historian, Mrs. R. Clough Carter, and Senior State President, Mrs. R. E. Scott, attended the National Board of Management Meeting. On Thursday they attended the National Officers Club luncheon. The Georgia delegation was proud to stand while Georgia State President, William C. Hurst, Jr., gave his report.

All of Georgia should be proud that our State President, William C. Hurst, Jr., was invited to lay the wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery during the ceremonies. The Georgia delegation was so very proud of William who was dressed in his U.S. Marine Reserve uniform, as we stood in the misting rain for the ceremony. Following this buses carried the 500 member delegates and seniors to the George Washington Masonic Temple for the installation ceremonies. It had to be held inside this year due to rain. Here our 2 new state presidents were installed. This year it is a mother-daughter team as Amy Richardson, State President, and her mother, Mrs. Fred Richardson, Senior State President, will lead Georgia into achieving much in Georgia C.A.R.

It has been the greatest honor for this senior officer of Georgia C.A.R. to have had the privilege to work with our wonderful young people and to see them grow and become active and responsible citizens.
